The government is after tax-dodgers. That should be a busy occupation. The game of tax-dodging is as old as taxation itself. There has always been a tendency on the part of some people to unload their just share of the burden upon those less able to bear it. Seems to me like the man who is able to make a lot of money should be willing to pay his part of the taxes under a system which permits the making of a lot of money. Remember a business man who used to kick harder than a chorus girl about his taxes when the income tax first became a law because he found himself in the higher brackets. Misfortune came during the panic. Now he isn't paying any income tax, and he wishes he was.

A fight prediction credited to my discriminating opinion should either be denied or revised. It failed to harmonize with conversations previous to the encounter. I had a preference, but my judgment refused to support my choice. So the fight ended as I thought it would end, irrespective of whether I said what was said I said or not. But it's pretty tough to get licked and then have the government come in and give you a final tax kick.

I have two little pool tickets on the Braddock-Louis fight, which are for sale at less than a bargain. Among the several slips of paper which I usually carry in my vest pocket are two I can get along without.

When one of those trucks which extend half-way across the street park on a corner, then you have to start to peek and jump if you want to get across. About the time you are ready to go, a car suddenly appears, and you decide not to go, so you retreat, and then try again with the same result. But a truck must park some place, and after a number of trials and a number of failures you decide it is safer and quicker to cross where the visibility is greater and your anatomy safer.

Casual encounter with Drs. Loerch and Jacobs. The Dr. Loerch has just returned from a trip to Washington, but it had no political significance. It was a visit to see his son graduate. Loerch tried to slip out without my knowledge, but I had a good friend at court who slipped me the info. Now I find Loerch and Jacobs coming from the noon lunch, and they suspect that Gene Kahan and I are going to the same place they came from. Dr. Loerch was one of those who crossed my path on an early visit to Santa Ana; oh, say some 30 years ago. He is still kind enough to continue the recognition. Maybe that's because Dr. Jacobs has said a good word for me.

Orange grower and real estate dealer—you can be both—has decided that he will be glad when the orange shipping season is over and forgotten. He thinks there are too many things about it to remember. So his opinion is that the earlier the season closes the easier the mind will be and the better the outlook for 1938, inasmuch as there is a fine set for next year. And then again he thinks there is too much talking about a

WPA Assigns 130 Men
After Layoff; Cost

County and WPA officials put their heads together today and decided to launch a determined drive to complete the big South Main street extension project.

Because of an acute shortage of men on WPA projects, the South Main street work was closed down a month ago. But arrangements were completed today between Dan Mulhern, chief of the WPA operations division, and County Road Superintendent A. A. Beard to reopen the project.

The project will be started on July 1 with 130 men working, it was learned. There were but 75 men on the job when the project was suspended.

So far the county and federal government have spent more than $200,000 on the important cut-off. On the final unit of the extension, the government has allocated $90,000 and the county, as sponsor, will spend another $20,000. The new project is written for six months.

When the cut-off has been completed, the state will take it over. Grading work must be done by the WPA and the county, but the state will pave the road at a cost of $200,000, which is set up in the state highway budget, Beard said today.

Four more miles of a mile and a half of the cut-off have been completed. The new job is for completion of the stretch between Corona del Mar and the Palisades road. This includes two miles of work. Then there is another two-mile stretch from Newport boulevard to the Palisades road to be completed.

Beard said today that most of the work left to be done will be accomplished by road equipment. The county will rush all available equipment on the job to complete the job as rapidly as possible, Beard said.

When the cut-off is completed, motorists will be able to save 3.3 miles on a trip from here to the Arches and 2.5 miles on a trip over the Seventeenth street route via the Bay Shores camp.

EXPERTS SCORE
'DIRTY OIL'

A second laboratory expert today told Superior Judge Benjamin F. Warner that samples of Eden Refining company road oil furnished by the county road department contained so much water that they foamed when heated.

The expert, Myron Niesley of Los Angeles, testified, however, that samples taken in the method described by road department truck drivers would not be representative of the oil furnished. He also said 13 samples taken from 500 barrels of oil would not be sufficient to give a representative test.

AWAIT SENTENCE — Ellis Parker (above), chief of detectives in Burlington county, N. J., for 44 years and his son, Ellis, Jr. (below), await sentence today following their conviction last night for plotting the kidnapping and torture of Paul H. Wendel to obtain a false confession to the kidnapping-murder of the Lindbergh baby—a "confession" which delayed the execution of Bruno Baupmann three days.

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Another complex sequel to the Lindbergh kidnapping drew to a close today as Ellis Parker, sr., colorful "country detective," and his son, Ellis, Jr., awaited sentence for plotting the kidnapping of Paul H. Wendel.

The two were convicted last night by a federal jury of conspiring to seize and torture Wendel to obtain a false confession to the kidnapping of Charles A. Lindbergh, jr. This "confession" delayed for three days execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the Lindbergh crime.

The Parkers were liable to sentences of one day to 100 years. The jury recommended leniency. Next Wednesday was set tentatively for sentencing.

The elder Parker, 65 years old, choked back tears as the verdict was read. The son appeared calm. Mrs. Parker, jr., an expectant mother, wept.

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gov. George H. Earle today announced that martial law would be lifted in Johnstown at 7 a. m. tomorrow, and that the strike-bound plants of Bethlehem Steel company which he had closed might reopen at the same hour.

"Apparently the emergency in Johnstown has passed," the governor said.

Earle placed the strike district under martial law last Saturday and ordered closing of the Bethlehem steel mill, where a strike had been declared by the Committee for Industrial Organization.

'LIE' SHOUTED BY STEEL CHIEF

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The accusation was made and immediately denied at a senate committee hearing today that Tom Girdler was asked to resign as head of the Jones-Laughlin Steel corporation for a breach of confidence.

The accuser was Senator Guffey (D., Pa.), who said it was "common talk in Pittsburgh" that Girdler was asked to get out of Jones-Laughlin "because you gave confidential information of your company to the company you are now with."

Girdler—now chairman of the Republic Steel corporation—was in the senate postoffice committee witness chair testifying as to strikes in Republic plants.

He shouted:

"That's a lie and whoever told you that was a liar."

Guffey spoke of Girdler's transfer from one company to the other in response to the latter's comment that "Senator Guffey doesn't know what he's talking about regarding steel strike issues."

ALTURAS, (AP)—Eyewitness testimony concerning the fatal shooting of Claude L. McCracken, 46, newspaper editor, was offered by the state today in ordering Evelyn Olen, McCracken's housekeeper, to return to the witness stand at resumption of the trial on murder charges of Harry French.

Miss Olen was the last witness called yesterday, when the prosecution began its testimony in an announced effort to persuade a Modoc county jury that French, 30-year-old scion of a pioneer family, should be hanged.

French has retained five lawyers and has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity.

The desk sergeant called an officer. He took Gonzales out to look at the impounded car. They walked around it.

They looked some more. No fenders, no top, no bumpers.

State officials pointed the finger of guilt at relief chiselers in Orange county today.

One Costa Mesa couple was under arrest for asserted relief chiseling, and prosecution was threatened against others as Special Investigator Jack E. Barton of the state controller's office launched a sweeping investigation of SRA relief clients.

Arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Logan, 220 East Nineteenth street, Costa Mesa, yesterday marked the first time in the history of the county that anyone has been prosecuted for relief chiseling.

Petty Theft Charge

Barton signed a complaint against the Logans, charging them with four counts of petty theft. The charges involve receiving $86.52 in SRA relief checks during March and April while the defendant assertedly was employed by the Griffith Construction company. During that period Logan earned $166.50 for working for the construction firm, Barton said.

Logan was arraigned before Justice Donald Dodge of Costa Mesa yesterday afternoon. He pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial, the date of which was set for Tuesday, June 29, at 10 a. m. Bail was fixed at $100. Mrs. Logan, who also was named in the complaint, was released on her own recognizance.

Expropriates Greatest

Socialist Regime

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas pushed his Socialistic program another step forward today with expropriation of the country's greatest railway line, the National Railways of Mexico.

The government's decision was disclosed suddenly after a cabinet meeting.

Since the National Railways was incorporated in 1907, the government has owned 51.55 per cent of the stock. Foreign bondholders will be reimbursed after the expropriated properties are revalued, the government said. In 1930 such United States investors' holdings were estimated at $73,000,000.

Expropriation moves have included expropriation of much agricultural land and its distribution among peasants, partial nationalization of Mexico's oil industry, and the teaching of Socialistic theories in schools.

Members of the powerful railroad union will become federal employees subject to government regulations. The National Railways owns 6818 miles of track and controls 1706 miles more.

CULTIST LOVER
LOSES PLEA

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich denied a motion for a mistrial today in the Mann act case against John West Hunt, 33, and three other followers of Father Divine, negro cult leader.

They are accused of bringing Delight Jewett, 17, here from Denver for immoral purposes and she has testified Hunt betrayed her.

Judge Yankwich's ruling ended an extended argument of opposing attorneys both in court and in the judge's chambers. The argument was over a defense motion that the case be thrown out of court because of Judge Yankwich's statement from the bench yesterday exhorting the defendants and saying he believed the jury would be justified in finding them guilty.

Guillotine Falls on Frozen Oranges Here

By ROCH BRADSHAW

The "guillotine" has been at work at The Journal office. Its sharp, dripping knife fell on dozens of oranges, bought at random in local markets.

County Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs knelt on The Journal floor and wielded the long blade. When he had finished, he stood up and put away his knife.

"Thirty per cent of those oranges are frozen so badly they couldn't be shipped," he said. "They shouldn't be sold in local markets. They shouldn't have left the packing houses."

Tubbs Criticized

The law allows 15 oranges out of 100 to have as much as 20 per cent frost injury. This lot had twice that many.

Tubbs has been severely criticized by newspaper editors and others for being too strict in enforcing the law on frozen fruit. The law aims at keeping frozen oranges off the market so buyers' confidence in California fruit will be maintained.

The Journal wanted to find out what the situation was locally. Tubbs and his knife laid bare the fact that 30 per cent of the fruit bought at random in local markets was frosted.

Used Holding Company
Method to Reduce Federal Levy

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Two score names of persons high in business and financial fields were listed by treasury officials today in the senate-house inquiry into tax evasion and avoidance.

The list included Andrew W. Mellon, Pierre DuPont, John J. Raskob, Thomas W. Lamont, Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., and Mrs. Ethel H. DuPont.

The names were listed in tables given the congressional investigating committee by Guy T. Helvering, internal revenue commissioner, as the committee studied what Helvering termed the "device of personal holding companies" to reduce tax payments.

Not Termined Illegal

Helvering did not say at any point that the tax reducing activities of those named were in any way illegal.

Instead, he said they took advantage of tax deductions allowed personal holding companies under the law which are not permitted on individual tax returns.

Mellon was described as having two holding companies. His name was brought into the hearing early in today's session when the treasury official listed the names of 17 holding companies and their principal owners as examples of how holding companies were used by wealthy persons to cut tax payments.

Names Mellon Firms

The two companies which Helvering said were owned by the former secretary of the treasury were given as the Adason Tobacco corporation of New York City and the Penn Tobacco corporation of Greenwich, Conn.

Besides A. W. Mellon, Helvering asserted, other persons having (See TAX QUIZ, page 2)

SUICIDE BALKED
BY LIQUOR

A case in which liquor may have saved a man's life went on record in the county hospital today.

Oscar Harrison, 211 Fullerton street, Buena Park, yesterday attempted to take his own life, by drinking a large quantity of iodine, according to a report at the sheriff's office here.

In the county hospital, attendants found that alcohol, accumulated in his system seemed to be counteracting the effect of the poison. Today he was declared in fair condition with good chances for recovery.

Harrison, who has been living at the home of Mrs. Emma Rodabaugh in Buena Park since May, when he came from his home in Amsterdam, N. Y., made a threat to take his own life, the sheriff's report said.

The report said he walked into a drug store late yesterday afternoon, bought a bottle of iodine and drank most of it before the bottle was knocked from his hand by Percy Owens.

Sheriff's deputies, summoned to the scene, called the Orange county ambulance service, which rushed him to the hospital in a critical condition.

They buy The Journal on newsstands or come into the office to ask about or place want-ads to meet their needs. Well, I'll Tell You----

By BOB BURNS

Carelessness is a bad trait, but as long as you're only careless with your own affairs, it's really nobody else's business. The trouble is, when that trait gets hold of you, you're liable to be careless in your dealings with other people.

I had a careless cousin down home who got a job with a contractor who was putting up a big building. The contractor was very strict and everybody said my cousin wouldn't last three days with him. Sure enough, on the second day he was workin' on a high scaffold and he got careless and slipped and fell seven floors.

When he crashed to the ground, all the other workmen gathered around to see if he was dead or not and my cousin looked up and said, "If the boss gets sore, tell him I had to come down here for nails, anyhow!"

COUNTY-WIDE MEET TUESDAY TO SPUR WATER BOND CAMPAIGN

BOOSTERS TO GATHER AT FULLERTON

Groups Representing All Areas to Hear Committee Report

The first general county-wide meeting on the proposed $2,500,000 flood control bond election will be held next Tuesday evening in Fullerton under auspices of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, Secretary Harry May announced today.

Left Lyon chairman of the Associated water committee, has been given general charge of the session, which will be held in Hughes' cafe, opening with a dinner at 6:30 p. m.

Delegates are expected to attend from every community in the county, and representatives of agricultural, commercial and industrial interests will be present. The entire flood control program will be explained at the meeting in sufficient detail to remove all uncertainty as to benefits promised each town or rural district, Secretary May said today.

The county flood control program calls for a dam at Prado on the Santa Ana river and on seven other streams. Construction will be supervised by army engineers under the federal appropriation of $13,000,000. Congress is expected to give final approval to the appropriation in the near future.

Orange county's part in the financing program is to vote a $2,500,000 bond issue July 27 to pay for rights-of-way and damages.

SYMPATHY STRIKE IN OHIO CALLED OFF

WARREN, O. (AP)—Five manufacturers closed their plants in Warren and Niles today after the C. I. O. notified its unions to abandon plans for a general sympathy strike.

Officials of the Brainard Steel Company said their contract with the C. I. O. was "no good." They denied there was a lockout at their plant, and said operations were curtailed, partly due to lack of orders.

J. C. Manterbach, president of the American Welding and Manufacturing Co., said his plant was shut down until "we find out what the union is going to do."

F. R. Schaeffer, general manager of the Niles Steel Products Company, declared the action was taken because of an unauthorized strike yesterday.

C. I. O. unions called strikes in many Warren plants yesterday in a move for a projected general labor holiday as a protest against a court injunction limiting picketing at the Republic Steel plant in Warren.

The action, also, was a sympathy move against the movement of men and supplies into the Republic plant under protection of city police and the Ohio National guard, sent to the Mahoning valley by Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio to maintain the steel "status quo" while the federal mediation board continued its deliberations.

Tax Witness Once A Congressman

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Guy T. Helvering, who described the personal holding company as a tax-dodging device before a congressional committee, is a former congressman himself.

The commissioner of internal revenue was a member of the powerful house ways and means committee during the World War while a representative from Kansas.

Helvering, now 59, once was chairman of the Kansas Democratic committee and state director of highways. A bank president, he entered his present office in 1933.

R. P. Scripps on List
The exhibit listed first of the names of Robert P. Scripps and E. W. Scripps as principal owners of personal holding companies.

Senator Harrison (D., Miss.) asked whether the two were "engaged in the newspaper business, and how many papers do they have?"

"They have papers in a large number of cities," Helvering replied.

Harrison then asked whether profits from the papers were transferred to the holding companies, making profits subject only to the holding company tax.

There was no reply from Helvering. Senator La Follette (Pro., Wis.) interrupting to say that if the companies had paid no taxes "they must have had losses."

To Explain Deductions
"There were certain deductions that will be explained later," Abe Ribicoff, a special expert, replied.

Helvering's table showed the Adson firm, on the basis of its 1934 tax return, had a net income of $97,773 before any adjustments were made under the personal holding company tax section.

The company paid, he said, an ordinary corporate tax of $15, no personal holding company surtax, and dividends of $20,250.

The additional surtax which would have been paid if no personal holding company had existed was calculated at $28,500.

Figures Listed
The list also included the Penn Tobacco corporation, owned by the same individuals, with a net income before adjustments of $192,600, no ordinary corporate, or holding company surtax, no dividends, and an additional surtax that would have been paid if the firm had not existed of $76,585.

The Robert P. Scripps company, of which Robert P. Scripps was given as principal owner, had net income before adjustments of $170,590, no corporate, or holding company tax, and dividends of $45,000, the treasury official said. The additional surtax that would have been paid had the company not been formed was placed at $59,840.

Halt Deportation Of Hitler Critic

NEW YORK, (AP)—Deportation to Germany of Rolf von Reitzenstein, writer who has attacked Chancellor Hitler in printed articles, was halted today on order of Federal Judge Vincent L. Leibel.

On the eve of his scheduled departure the court upheld a petition for a writ of habeas corpus brought by von Reitzenstein's attorney, and ordered him brought before him next Tuesday. The formal charge against the writer is illegal entry into the United States.

NAZIS GIVEN WARNING BY BRITISH

By The Associated Press
British officialdom worked hard to calm excited talk in the newest Spanish-International crisis today.

But London let Berlin know that any aggressive act by the Reich's massing men of war in Spanish waters would be looked upon "most seriously" by his majesty's government.

France matched the German show of force. A French warship fleet anchored at Bone, Algeria, due south of Italy's Mediterranean island of Sardinia, after secret night maneuvers.

Eden Urges Calmness
Despite tension, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden urged the house of commons to accept with "great reserve" any excited reports of German naval movements after Italy-German withdrawal from Europe's "hands off Spain" patrol.

German and Italian warships patrolled the coasts of Spain on their own initiative today. Their commanders acting in apparent concert.

Italian vessels were under orders to strike back immediately at any "attack" from the Spanish government. The German battle fleet, about to be reinforced by the pocket battleship Graf Spee, was told to "protect German interests."

Fear Retaliation

A fear still pervaded Britain that the joint Italian-German withdrawal from the non-intervention designed to isolate the Spanish war was the forerunner of an attack against government Spain as "punishment" for an alleged attempt to torpedo the German cruiser Leipzig.

From Paris, meantime, came word that France and England would look askance at any Italian-German attempt to blockade the Spanish government coast.

Germany blamed Russia and Great Britain for the new European crisis, which resulted when France and Britain refused to accede to German and Italian demands for a naval demonstration against the Valencia government.

Sewer Board Postpones Meet

Members of the Orange county joint outfall sewer board today planned to hold a special meeting next Wednesday night, June 30, after abandoning their scheduled session last night.

The meeting will be held in the Anaheim city hall to consider reaching a compromise agreement with Santa Ana on plans for repairing Section 1 of the sewer line. The cities have been blocked for years by a half because Santa Ana insisted upon concrete pipe and others insisted upon vitrified clay pipe.

Only two newspaper reporters turned up at the scheduled meeting last night, and it was reported that the outfall board secretary had failed to mail notices to members.

By golly, after an interminable agitation, exasperation and indignation, a gleam of park sunshine filters through municipal channels, and two parks are at least among the prospective objectives for the city of Santa Ana.

And again about this park business. If we are to have more relief we should have more room for the city of Santa Ana. So far as I am concerned, I shall always welcome an opportunity to supply my own relief. I hope the time comes when none of us will have to ask for relief, but able to get a job which will of itself be sufficient to bring in our daily bread.

Frank Andrews, after being on the inside of the Orange County Title Co. for 14 years, has decided to see how the California sunlight looks, with particular preference for the coast variety. So he has made an identification with the Hamasi Corporation, an important Los Angeles realty concern, which has extensive interests along the beach, from Corona Del Mar continuing south. Before I had an acquaintance with Frank, I knew his dad. Those were the days when the old sunset club was affluent, and the senior Andrews was secretary of the Board of Education. After the dark hour came I was fortunate in a continuation of the Andrews friendship through a growing fellowship with the son. I've noticed that those traits of integrity possessed by his forbear were inherited by the son, a legacy invaluable in business life. An observing business concern has sought the services of such a man, and both are to be congratulated.

MORE ABOUT EDEN OIL

from San Bernardino county for the trial, is hearing the suit of the Eden Refining company to recover $172,770 for road oil furnished to the county in September, October and November.

Claim Roads Damaged
The county has refused payment on grounds the oil contained excess amounts of water and sediment, and has filed a counter claim for alleged damage to county roads.

Mrs. Helen Heckart, chemist, related yesterday that the first sample she tested foamed under heat, apparently from excess water.

C. B. Henry, road foreman in the section where the oil was used, told today how he first discovered the oil was not acting properly on the roads and called the matter to the attention of Supervisor John Mitchell. Mitchell revealed tests of the oil during the supervisory election campaign last November.

Henry said the roads on which Eden oil was used are lighter in color than other roads and that they have checked and cracked.

Used On 19 Roads
A. A. Beard, county highway superintendent, presented a list of 19 roads on which the oil was used. He said cracks developed in them and that the oil itself appeared too brownish in color.

Mrs. Heckart had testified that presence of water would make the oil brown in color. Dr. F. W. Slabaugh, formerly county purchasing agent, and Nat H. Neff, former highway superintendent, were called to the stand yesterday to testify that William Iverson of the Eden company refused after the dispute in November to furnish more oil, but later agreed to prepare 1000 barrels if the county would test it before delivery.

Dr. Slabaugh and Neff said the oil was not delivered.

"I guess it was our own fault they wasn't delivered," Slabaugh added.

Deny Re-Vamping Of L. A. Fire Setup

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—A proposal for organization of the county fire department on a two-platoon system lacked the approval today of the board of supervisors, which acquiesced instead to a $45,000 increase in the county fire warden's budget for raising salaries.

Spence D. Turner, county fire warden, requested the two-platoon system at a preliminary budget hearing, and estimated it would cost around $90,000 a year. County firemen, who now work 96 hours a week at 30 cents an hour, would have been placed on an eight-hour day at 60 cents an hour.

Four Seminole chieftains took a petition to Mexico City asking President Lazaro Cardenas to grant them land their forefathers owned before the U. S. Civil war brought them to Oklahoma.

Lunching with Cardenas at Chapultepec Castle, the chieftains declared their 4000 tribesmen wished to leave Oklahoma forever and return to the tepes of their ancestors in the wilderness of Coahuila.

JURY RESUMES BRIBE PROBE

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—The Sacramento grand jury resumed its investigation of legislative corruption charges today in a session at which District Attorney Otis D. Babcock said he would ask indictment of Raymond Kahl, assistant sergeant of arms of the assembly.

Babcock said he would also decide whether he would be able to proceed June 29 with the trial of Gene Flint, Los Angeles assemblyman, on charges of attempting to bribe another assemblyman. He indicated the question of whether a subpoena had been served on Flint would be the deciding factor.

The prosecutor said evidence indicated Kahl accepted $300 from Mrs. Albert Sherman Hoyt of South Pasadena to lobby for the Arroyo Seco bill.

Italy Scrapping Fences for Iron

ROME, (AP)—Mayors of every Italian city received a government circular today asking for estimates on the amount of iron that could be realized by scrapping all municipal iron fences and gates.

Rome, itself, recently set an example by removing four miles of iron railings from magnificent Borghese Park.

The questionnaire was an indication of Italy's desperate need for iron and of the difficulty of obtaining supplies abroad since Great Britain embargoed her steel rearmament program.

ONE SIXTH OF POPULATION ON FARMS

Every sixth person you see in Orange county lives on a farm.

According to figures released by the United States Bureau of Census today, there were 20,824 persons living on farms in this county in 1930. The figures were made public by the chamber of commerce here. The total had dropped more than 2000 persons by 1935 to a low of 18,778. These figures are contrasted with a county population of 118,674 persons.

The farm dwellers represent slightly more than 2 per cent of the state total.

A farm, for census purposes, includes all land directly farmed by one person, either by his own labor alone, or with the assistance of others. A farm includes a ranch, nursery, apiary or hatchery.

Orange county ranks eleventh in the state in the total personnel employed in industry, business and farming, according to latest figures. The total number for all three lines of work was 24,913 in 1935. This figure represents slightly less than one-tenth of 1 per cent of the nation's total, and almost 2 per cent of the state figure.

Farm personnel, those directly employed on the soil, is almost 10,000 persons. This is 1153 per cent of the United States total and more than 3 1/2 per cent of the state total. The figure may be broken up into more than 6100 farm operators and 3700 persons used as hired help.

SHEPPARD CARRIES GENERAL WELFARE ACT FIGHT TO PRESIDENT

WILL CONFER WITH CHIEF SATURDAY

Congressman Who Broke With Townsend Will Push 'Rebel' Plan

Congressman Harry Sheppard carried his campaign for enactment of the general welfare act to President Roosevelt today.

The congressman who raised a mighty furore here when he split with Dr. F. E. Townsend over the old age pension leader's attitude toward President Roosevelt, will confer with the President Saturday at Jefferson island, it was learned today.

Gets Invitation
News received by The Journal from Washington today revealed that following a White House announcement that President Roosevelt had arranged a conference with all Democratic members of the legislative branch, Sheppard received an invitation to a conference with the President Saturday morning.

It is understood that Representative Bieter of New York, who with Sheppard led the caucus and floor fight for PWA funds, would confer together with the President.

'Rebel' Organization
Congressman Sheppard said he intends to confine his conference to extension of PWA and WPA and request administration consideration of the general welfare act, H. R. 4199. Sheppard is the author of petition No. 12, which seeks to bring H. R. 4199 to the floor of the house for debate and vote.

J. H. Walsh, district attorney for the Townsend clubs, this week termed the General Welfare club movement another "rebel" organization which will fade out of the picture.

Charged with drunken driving, Farrell E. Bailey, 727 Bonnie Drive, Los Angeles, was arrested by Santa Ana police yesterday at the corner of Wilshire and South Main streets. Dr. L. C. Davidson examined Bailey and pronounced him intoxicated. He was lodged in the county jail.

LeRoy Quirk, 509 Bush street, was given a permit by police yesterday to carry a semi-automatic pistol.

DUKE'S AGENT BUYS ESTATE IN ENGLAND

BIRMINGHAM, England, (AP)—An agent for the Duke of Windsor was said today to have purchased a hundred-year-old estate in Lincolnshire, leading to reports former King Edward VIII would go there to live after echoes of his abdication have quieted.

The little hamlet of Harlaxton, Lincolnshire, was excited by rumors its former king may be its new squire.

Harlaxton Hall lies near the residence of Lord Brownlow, a close friend of Windsor who accompanied the Duchess of Windsor when Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson—when she fled the country at the height of the abdication crisis brought about by the king's determination to marry her. The estate is located in the English hunting country.

The estate, roughly 100 miles north of London, consists of 4000 acres and is self-supporting. The manor itself has 100 bedrooms.

Workers in County Earn 12 Million a Year

Twelve million one hundred and eighty-three thousand dollars! That is the sum that rolled into the pockets of some 11,960 employees in Orange county during 1935, according to figures released today by the United States Bureau of the Census. The figures were made public by the chamber of commerce here.

A compilation of personnel and payroll in the counties of California revealed that there are 3200 employers in this region, paying $12,000,000 to their workers. Orange county ranks twelfth in the state in the size of its payroll.

Manufacturing
Breaking the $12,000,000 figure up into industries it is found that almost 2000 men and women are employed in manufacturing and that these 2000 persons draw an annual payroll of more than $2,271,000.

Those employed in retail selling in this region number 3920, according to 1935 figures. It is expected that this figure is well above the 4000 mark this year. The payroll in 1935 was better than $3,674,000.

Almost an equal number are employed in wholesale endeavors, their figures being 3456. The payroll for this branch of industry in 1935 was $3,168,000.

RADIO TIGHTENS LAW NET HERE

The network of law enforcement in Southern California was tightened today as Oceanside joined the police radio hook-up between Orange county, San Diego and Long Beach.

By the new arrangements, Oceanside is put into close contact with all major centers in this section. Through the Santa Ana station, KGHX, the beach community police can be connected at any time with the other cities in the circuit and in addition with San Bernardino and Riverside.

Oceanside has had a police radio station for some time, Bud Whitman, chief radio technician of station KGHX, said today, but it has not been connected with this circuit.

Thirteen Southern California departments now are exchanging crime information over police radio hookup.

Real Estate Group

Five hundred and six men and women were employed in real estate and finance in 1935, drawing salaries that totaled better than three-quarters of a million dollars.

A little known business in Orange county was brought to light with the announcement that 300 people are employed in mines and quarries here. They get wages of almost half a million dollars annually.

About 170 persons are employed in "service." This is defined by the government as being any kind of service rendered as contrasted to dealings in merchandise.

Construction
This includes labor and beauty shops, advertising agencies, automobile repair establishments and small manufacturing plants valued at less than $5000. Their salaries total more than $615,000 annually.

Construction employs 328 persons who draw combined salaries totaling $367,000. Hotels employ 70, with an annual payroll of $47,000.

In miscellaneous groups are found 700 other persons who make $824,000 annually. Included in this category are places of amusement, motor trucking for hire, public warehousing, radio broadcasting, tourist camps and administrative offices.

Townsend News, Views

By
WALTER R. ROBB

The following editorial, which appeared in the Orange Daily News last Monday evening, sheds light on how some folks who are not personally aligned with the Townsend movement regard the action of Representative Harry R. Sheppard in breaking with Dr. Townsend.

The editorial follows. It speaks a language which echoes the thoughts of many clear thinking citizens of the 19th district. I quote:

"It is doubtless, a distressing situation in which Congressman Sheppard finds himself in his relations with Dr. Townsend. His break with the venerable leader of the Townsend movement leaves the congressman in a position in which congressmen dislike to be left.

"The Townsend people elected Mr. Sheppard to congress because they believed he would support the Townsend pension program. His commitments to the Roosevelt administration were certainly plain and should have been sufficient warning to the Townsend people that one congressman could not possibly follow diverging paths. The Roosevelt way was not the Townsend way and it was certain that the congressman would at length be compelled to choose between them.

"The reason which Mr. Sheppard gives to justify his refusal to go on with Dr. Townsend is that the pension leader was too critical of the President's supreme court packing plan. That Dr. Townsend gives to justify his refusal to go on with Dr. Townsend is that the pension leader was too critical of the President's supreme court packing plan. That Dr. Townsend gives to justify his refusal to go on with Dr. Townsend is that the pension leader was too critical of the President's supreme court packing plan.

"The writer of the above editorial is right. The Townsend people may want to know the real reason for Sheppard's sudden resignation from the Townsend organization. More than that they intend to find out. Already the real truth regarding the sudden change is being sought. The Townsend people do not accept the statements of the general welfare steering committee, which have been given out as the reason for their desertion of the Townsend leader, as being all the truth in the matter.

MATTERN TO TRY POLAR FLIGHT

Will Retrace Russian Airmen's Epic Hop To Moscow

OAKLAND. (AP)—James Matern, noted flier, announced plans last night for a non-stop refueling flight from here to Moscow over the route just flown by the three Soviet airmen.

A new $100,000 twin-motored monoplane has been completed at Burbank, Calif., for the hazardous flight. Matern revealed after lunching with the Soviet fliers and Ambassador Alexander Troyanovsky.

Because the plane has a cruising range of only 5000 miles it would be necessary to refuel while flying, probably over Fairbanks, Alaska, Matern explained.

The plane has a robot pilot and Matern said he has not decided whether to take a navigator along on the 6000-mile journey.

"I will make the flight to demonstrate the United States development of aircraft, and in appreciation of the Soviet fliers who saved me in 1933 when I crashed in Siberia," Matern said.

BACK DAM RATE REVISION PLAN

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The house rivers and harbors committee has approved legislation authorizing President Roosevelt to readjust Boulder dam power and interest charges if he finds the project is being "unreasonably discriminated against" as a result of standards yet to be prescribed for the new Bonneville project on the Columbia river.

The Boulder language authorizes the chief executive to direct any agency he may designate to hold public hearings and report findings to him by Dec. 31 "respecting any unreasonable discrimination" against a boulder "with respect to charges against power for construction costs, amortization and interest" on the basis of standards prescribed for Bonneville.

The secretary of the interior, subject to the President's approval, then would be required to "direct and remove such discrimination and adjust charges and rates to the extent he deems necessary and appropriate."

PLUM SHIPPER RESTRAINED

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Federal Judge Leon Yankwich has ordered a temporary injunction against John J. Kovacevich, Arvin fruit shipper, restraining him from further shipment of fresh plums in violation of the federal AAA, officials announced today.

Kovacevich was asserted to have shipped plums without the inspection required by the AAA regulations. No further action will be taken against him, federal officials here said, unless he violates the injunction.

At the same time, Judge Yankwich also granted a temporary restraining order against the Federal Fruit distributors, a Fresno fruit shipping group. They are accused of having shipped plums in violation of the federal AAA by not having them inspected. An order to show cause why the restraining order should not be made a temporary injunction was issued by Judge Yankwich and made returnable July 1.

Urges Self-Cure For Polio Nurses

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The county grand jury health committee today had before it a recommendation by Dr. Milton H. Berry, managing director of the Berry Health Foundation, that general hospital nurses who contracted infantile paralysis during a series of epidemics be taught and encouraged to cure themselves.

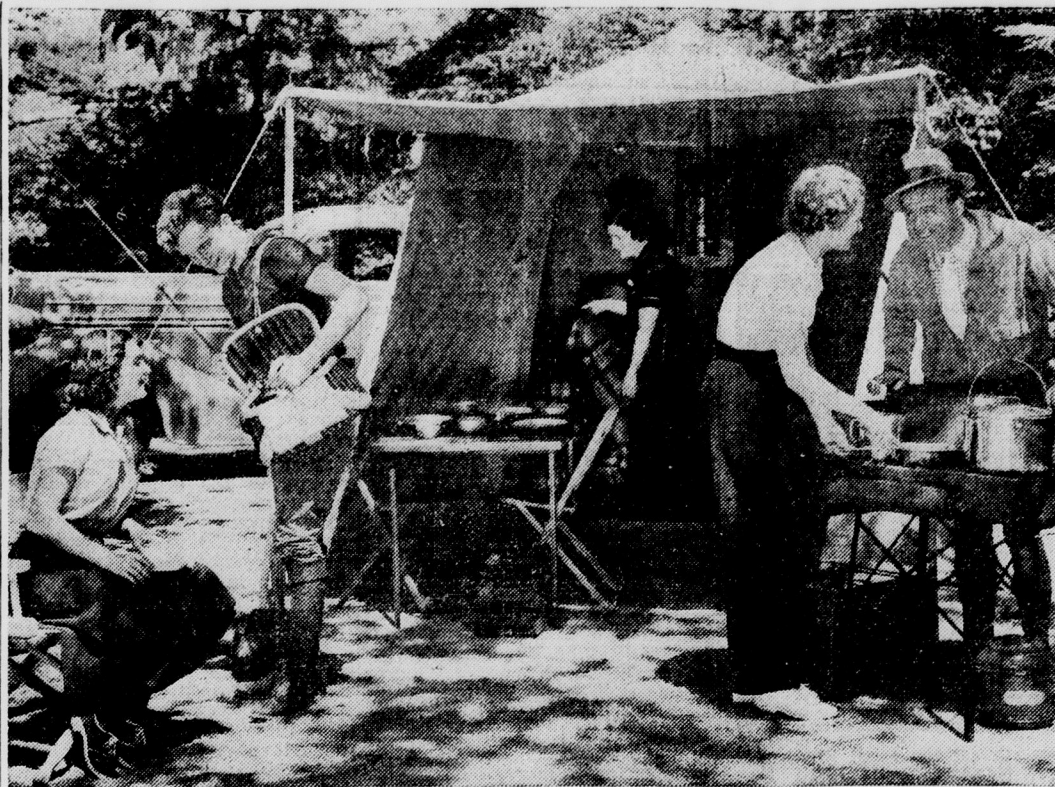

"They have been given light treatments and massages and the like, but they have not been taught to do anything for themselves," Dr. Berry said in a letter to the committee.

Will Try To Make Hospital Pay Way

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—County supervisors are considering new rates for the general hospital instead of the flat $4 per day rate for non-indigents, actual costs for service is contemplated, this in some cases being $12 a day. County ambulance service and mortuary service, heretofore rendered free, will be charged for. It is a move to make the hospital pay its way.

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Six firemen, working for 18 hours in four-hour shifts, provided artificial respiration for Mrs. Georgia Rapp, 67, after an operation until she was placed in an "iron lung" yesterday. Mrs. Rapp is the wife of W. H. Rapp, former postmaster at Loyalton, Northern California lumber camp.

THEY ALL ENJOY CAMP TRIP—A vacation that will please the whole family is found in a camping trip, according to the resident manager of the Western Auto Supply company, who declares that there is something about camp life that not only affords a change from workaday worries, but also adds a zest for living that lasts the whole year through. Most important thing about such a vacation trip are "sleep" and "eats," he adds, and advises prospective campers to be sure their stove, bed and bedding are in good condition before setting out on such a trip.

By R. C. HARNESSE
(Local Manager, Western Auto Supply Company)

About this time a year a strange unrest begins to manifest itself in countless homes. Simultaneously, members of families haul out old camping equipment, check over out-of-date clothes, investigate fishing tackle, and begin to discuss the comparative merits of seashore and mountains. Father listens anxiously to the sound of the family motor, begins to wonder how the brakes are holding out, and speculates on the condition of the old battery. He peeks at the tires, feels the tread, and pulls off tire covers to look at the spare. An air of expectancy and anticipation hovers over the household, and, of course, the big question on everybody's mind is: Where shall we spend our vacation?

Of all the vacation possibilities, what can compare with the joys that are yours when you pitch your own tent by a mountain lake or under great trees far from the turmoil and excitement of the workaday life. That is a real vacation that renews you in body and spirit and is ideally suited for the whole family.

The West is a camper's paradise. In the great area from Washington to Mexico and from the Pacific to the Rockies, we can each find a wonderful spot that for a few glorious weeks will be our own private Eden.

A Home Rehearsal

To come back to more prosaic things, we should all prepare well in advance in order to assure the success of the camping trip. Sources of supply for many needed things may be far distant from our camping place. One of the best ways to make a thorough inspection of camping needs is to actually spend an afternoon camping in the back yard. By setting up the tent you know whether or not you have enough pegs, poles and rope. While up, the tent can be inspected for leaks. Put up the beds or camp cots to be sure that all parts are intact and in working order, and then spread out your camp bedding to be sure that the moth has not feasted on it.

The camp stove is a most important part of your equipment. For the satisfaction of hearty vacation appetites will depend on it. Set it up, light it, even cook on it, just to be sure it is in good shape. And if you don't have table-high legs for the stove, I advise you to get them, for they'll be worth many times their cost in convenience. This is also a good time to inspect your fishing tackle, for a lot of enjoyment depends on having enough and seeing that it is in good condition.

All this preparation will be a lot of fun, too, and it will pay real dividends of enjoyment during your vacation.

You will enjoy your trip much more if your car gives you the reliable service that you have a right to expect of it. And one way to be sure of this is to make many times their cost in convenience. This is also a good time to inspect your fishing tackle, for a lot of enjoyment depends on having enough and seeing that it is in good condition.

Experts to Help You

Men in the store will be glad to test your battery and give you accurate information on its condition. If a new one is necessary, we can supply you with a quality battery of the grade you desire. All other sections are likewise completely stocked to meet the needs of prospective tourists.

The Western Auto Supply company, with more than 200 stores in the West, is the motorist's department store, and its wide-flung organization probably gives a broader service to motorists than any other company in the world.

Orange Juice Beginning To Drip at Local Plants

A new phase of Orange county's citrus industry began opening up today.

Citrus juice plants throughout the county and the southern part of the state began operations in a preliminary way. Some of the 27 plants in the Southland, however, were waiting for oranges to mature a little more before starting plant operations.

Hundreds of men and women will be given work in this phase of the citrus industry's program, which has become an important part of the industry in recent years.

Frost Problem
The serious damage to the fruit from the January freezes presents a problem to the canners of citrus juices this year, as well as to those that make other by-products from citrus fruits.

Opening prices on juice oranges, set at a minimum base of $12 a ton, are somewhat below those of last year, according to reports reaching County Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs. Last year prices around $30 a ton were paid.

Fruit damaged by frost does not yield much juice, it was stated, some plants reporting that fruit from Arizona is yielding from 50 to 60 gallons per ton, about half the amount of last year. It is expected, however, that the average will run from 80 to 85 gallons this year. Last year the average was around 100 gallons.

Price Schedule
The $12 base price established, it was stated, will be added to by purchasers in proportion to the amount of juice secured from the fruit. Last year lots of oranges were sold for juice which could have been marketed. This year the situation is different, with practically all good fruit going to market, leaving only the poorer grades for juice plants.

The Tree Sweet plant in Santa Ana now is putting out about 5000 gallons of juice a day, and is employing a crew of 140 persons. The average output of the plant is 20,000 gallons per day, and before long about 200 persons will be working at the plant. Officers of the company think the juice season this year will be short.

Toyland Coming to Three Orange County Cities

The National Youth Administration reached out into three Orange county cities today to gladden the hearts of little girls and boys.

Uncle Sam's representatives will establish the popular toy lending libraries in Orange, and later on, in Huntington Beach, and later on, in other parts of the county. And this is especially good news for diminutive "mothers" who have no "babies" to cuddle.

Factory Employs 20
Simultaneous with the announcement today by Robert Wilson, county NYA director, that the three branch toy libraries will be established, it also was announced that the NYA toy factory at 1448 South Main street is operating with the project set up to give employment to 40 young people, 20 boys and 20 girls.

DULL STUDENTS 'MAKE GOOD'

DENVER. (AP)—Dr. Lillian G. Portenier, of the University of Wyoming, figures she has good reason for contending the grouping of dull and superior students into separate school classes does not give the dull group an "inferiority complex."

After following two of these groups through their entire school courses, she found the two highest salaries earned in either group went to two men who had been classified in the "dull, poorly adjusted group," Dr. Portenier told the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Seek Probe Of Fortune Tellers

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The grand jury criminal complaints committee had under advisement today a request for a grand jury investigation into the ordination of fortune tellers in an alleged violation of the city fortune-telling ordinance.

Dr. Isaac Ward, pastor of the Hollenbeck Presbyterian church, told the committee a local religious organization is ordaining fortune tellers in return for fees of $5 to $25, depending upon the title desired.

UNIONS SUED FOR DAMAGES
LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Suit for $25,000 damages was on file today against two labor unions, charging they conspired to compel the C. H. Smith Metropolitan Market Co., Ltd., to sign an agreement with them on the threat of ruining its business. BEGIN COURT BILL DEBATE NEXT WEEK

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Democratic Leader Robinson said last night the Roosevelt court bill probably would be called up in the senate for debate the latter part of next week.

It was the first statement from the administration leader as to when the court bill might come up. Robinson said that he could not say anything about the progress of negotiations for a compromise.

COMMITTEE NAMED TO STUDY AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON. (AP)—A senate judiciary sub-committee has been appointed, it was learned, to consider a proposed constitutional amendment enlarging the supreme court to 11 members.

Senator Andrews (D-Fla.), the author, said that in view of this action, he would abandon temporarily at least his attempt to achieve the same objective through an amendment to the Roosevelt court bill.

The constitutional amendment would provide eventually for a supreme court consisting of one justice from each of the 10 circuit court districts, and a chief justice appointed from the country at large.

It would allow voluntary retirement of justices at 70 after 10 years service and would compel retirement at 75.

Senator Logan (D-Ky.) heads the sub-committee. Senator Borah (R-Idaho) is a member.

TO PLAY MUSIC OF MASTERS THIS SUMMER

A program taken from the world's greatest master composers and featuring Miss Georgia Belle Walton, will be given by the Federal Music Project Symphony Orchestra Friday evening at the Willard school auditorium.

Miss Walton will play the first movement of Edward Lalo's "Symphony Espagnole," accompanied by the orchestra.

Selections from the works of Schubert, Ponchielli, Massenet and Wagner—the later regarded as the master of all symphonic composers—comprise the program for the evening of musical entertainment.

Opening with the "Unfinished Symphony" by Franz Schubert, the 40-piece orchestra, conducted by Leon Eckles, will then present Ponchielli's "Dance of the Hours" from the opera Gioconda, followed by Massenet's "Scenes Pittoresques," which include four numbers from this suite—the "Marche," "Air de Ballet," "The Angelus," and "Fete Boheme."

Bringing the concert to a conclusion, climaxed by Wagner's Overture to "Tannhauser," the performance will mark the second of the paid admission concerts by this body of musicians.

Tickets for the concert, beginning at 8:15 o'clock, will be on sale at popular prices at the school box office at 7 p. m.

EARLE BOOMS F. D. R. FOR A THIRD TERM

Pennsylvania Governor Says He Is Best Man For President

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Governor George H. Earle came out "unqualifiedly and finally" late yesterday for the re-election of President Roosevelt in 1940.

"I am for Franklin Roosevelt for president in 1940 unqualifiedly and finally," said Earle who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the presidency.

"I've got a lot of work to do here in Pennsylvania and I'm getting weary of the questions about my candidacy in 1940. . . . There are many leaders of intelligence and honesty in the Democratic party. There are, however, no men in the Democratic party or any other party who reach knee-high in stature mentally and morally to Franklin D. Roosevelt. . . .

"I have never discussed this matter with the President and this statement is made without his permission."

BURKE SAYS PRESIDENT TO RETIRE IN 1940

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Senator Burke (D-Neb.), commenting on Governor Earle's declaration for re-election of President Roosevelt in 1940, said the chief executive had given his "assurance" he would retire at the end of this term.

While most other Democrats, and even the Republicans, refused to comment on the Earle statement, Burke, who has bitterly opposed the Roosevelt court bill, said:

"The President has given us his own assurance that on Jan. 20, 1941, he will settle down to enjoy life at Hyde Park."

Individual critics were R. Carson Smith, J. Lee Woods, Phil Crittenden, Ralph C. Smalley, T. E. McLeod and Dwight Hamilton. Paul Cole was a visitor.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Six battleships of the United States fleet left today for Puget Sound and the annual summer recreational cruise. They will anchor in San Francisco harbor for the week-end and Independence day.

Twelve scouting force heavy cruisers will leave next Monday for Puget Sound. Accompanying them will be the San Diego-based scouting force destroyers.

The advance group leaving today consisted of the California, battleship flagship of Admiral C. C. Bloch, and the West Virginia, New Mexico, Idaho, Nevada and Tennessee.

KLEMPERER IN HOSPITAL. LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Otto Klemperer, conductor of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra was in Good Samaritan Hospital today, under observation for a digestive disturbance. His doctor said his condition was not serious and that he would be able to return to his work in a few days.

Japan Urged to Pick Leaders With Blood of the 'O' type

TOKYO. (AP)—Dr. Tsunemasa Nigaki, medical advisor to the foreign office, urged the government today to pick its diplomats by blood type—the "O" kind. Dr. Nigaki explained there were four distinct types of human blood, "A," "B," "AB" and "O." He added that only "superior" men like Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye, who possesses "O" type blood, are fitted to fight Japan's diplomatic battles.

"These men combine level-headedness with quick, unerring decision, perseverance and a gentle menial cloak an iron will," said Dr. Nigaki.

"Unlike fortune telling, the blood-type test is completely scientific. We no longer want pale, anemic, genius-type fellows in the government, but robust chaps who are vigorous and full-blooded."

The doctor's dictum created a sensation in government departments.

The other version said the dispute arose when the archbishop decided to remove the national hero's body to a tower of bells, because King Carol of Rumania was expected to visit Pilsudski's grave next Wednesday. The archbishop did not wish to receive the monarch, head of the Rumanian Orthodox church, within the Roman Catholic cathedral.

Here were two versions of the strange controversy:

Mary Pickford May Be Hubby's Boss After She and Buddy Rogers Wed Next Saturday

BUDDY ROGERS . . . May Be His Wife's Star

MARY PICKFORD . . . Won't Sit at Home

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD. — "For sale—large hilltop mansion, tennis courts, swimming pool, extra guest house, 12-acre grounds. Comes furnished with sweetest story that ever went sour in film world. Owner desires break with past."

The signs are not up yet, and when they are they don't be worded that way. But the hypothetical notice above tells the story better—for undoubtedly Pickfair will be offered for sale when Mary Pickford becomes Mrs. Charles (Buddy) Rogers Saturday.

Only two things were settled when I called: they would be married at a simple ceremony and they would not live at Pickfair, where "Mary and Doug" played royalty to Hollywood for 13 years.

Selling Film Stock While other June brides-to-be are chasing from shower to shower, Mary Pickford has been busy with business. It is momentous business, too, concerned with the sale of her share of United Artists, the studio she helped to found and guide through many crises.

This does not mean Mary's departure from active film life, say her friends, nor will marriage to Buddy Rogers mean the emergence of a new Mary-sit-by-the-fire.

Whether she'll start her 34-year-old husband is something even she professes not to know, but it seems in the cards that she'll produce pictures. All but five of her 44 years have been spent in stage and screen work.

Pickfair Park? Lately radio and writing have added to her responsibilities. She and Jesse Lasky disagreed after two films, but she might find another partner. Or even go it alone, but there's less chance of that.

As for Pickfair, there has been some talk about its being acquired by the Beverly Hills park system. Mary, who got the property when she split with Fairbanks, never has expressed herself definitely on the idea. But she'd like—her friends say—to think of children playing on the rolling lawn, and of folk roving there, just the way they have done during her long tenancy.

CHILDREN HELP BURY BARRIE

KIRRIEMUIR, Scotland. (AP)—Three hundred school children who looked upon Sir James M. Barrie, creator of Peter Pan, as the fairy godfather of all girls and boys, helped bury him today. Most of those who attended the funeral for the man who made this little village famous by his Scottish tales, were the townspeople and the children he had known. The famous author, who died of bronchial pneumonia last Saturday in London at the age of 77, was buried in the family plot in the town cemetery.

Fletcher awaited the answer of striking oil, refinery and sugar workers to his offer of government arbitration if they would return to work. The strikers' demands included wage increases varying from 50 to 100 per cent and a 40-hour week.

SOVIET AIRMEN HEADING EAST

OAKLAND. (AP)—Three Soviet airmen, with the acclaim of the world following them because of their conquest of the dangerous air lines over the North Pole between Moscow and the United States, were en route east today by train. House Considers Army Post Bill

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The House had before it today a bill for construction and rehabilitation program at army posts that included $138,500 for Fort McArthur, California.

The scene of the two-day sale was the 10-room penthouse atop the skyscraper Chicago Civic Opera building, which the former billionaire built to house his pet avocation, the opera.

In the federal building, not far away the 75-year-old financier was involved in a $40,000,000 suit filed by creditors who suffered losses in the mid-depression collapse of his utility empire.

STRIKERS TELL PEACE TRY

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Defendants in the conspiracy-trespass trial of 21 men who participated in the sit-down strike in the Douglas Aircraft plant last February continued their testimony today that they observed a peaceful, protect-property policy during the strike.

Jack Ortman, a defendant who described himself a member of the strike board of strategy, told the court yesterday that he formed patrols among the sit-downers to see that no damage was done while they occupied the factory in Santa Monica.

Asked why they maintained so much secrecy about calling the strike, Ortman replied "because there were so many stool pigeons around."

Awaits Driving Charge Sentence

Russell Ray Riggs today awaited sentence on a misdemeanor charge of drunken driving as the result of a guilty verdict returned Tuesday in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court. The jury had its choice of a verdict of not guilty, or of guilty of either felony or misdemeanor drunken driving. The charges arose from an accident on the coast highway near San Clemente May 7.

SECTION MEETS AT CLEMENTE

SALINAS. (AP)—George Griffin, who was Salinas' chief of police during the violent 1936 lettuce harvest disorders and at that time commanded a large force which battled with workers, was without his job today because City Manager V. J. Marlogio considered him guilty of insubordination. Marlogio, who removed Griffin from office, said he would explain his action at the July 6 meeting of the city council.

The council recently found fault with Griffin for the turning over promotion of a benefit hall to an out-of-town agency. The resulting ticket sales methods caused citizens annoyance, the council said.

Try to Forestall St. Mary's Sale

MORAGA. (AP)—William J. Fitzgerald, attorney for the board of trustees of St. Mary's college, disclosed today that a movement was under way to forestall public sale tomorrow of the college's property, to satisfy bondholders. Efforts were under way to raise money for the bondholders, and barring success in this, a compromise plan was being considered under which the college would turn the property over to the bondholders and rent the buildings.

STEEL MILLS IN ALABAMA AT PEAK

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Alabama's steel and iron industry reached a new production peak today while labor difficulties hampered operations in other sections. Steel production has held steady at 96 per cent of capacity for several weeks, and pig iron output hit 100 per cent with the blowing in of the last idle blast furnace in the state yesterday.

Industrial sources, were quick to deny, however, that labor strife in other steel and iron centers had any bearing on the local situation. They contended that orders from the district's regular customers provide more than capacity production.

The Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company, U. S. Steel subsidiary and largest of the South's steel producers, blew in the last of its eight furnaces in Birmingham to bring pig iron output to the 100 per cent level. The area has 18 blast furnaces, all in operation for the first time since 1928. Pig iron production in 1936 was 2,061,534 tons, more than double the depression low, and forecasts call for at least 2,500,000 tons this year.

Sucker Goods

They range from razor blades to mattresses to houses. We all try them once in a while, and admit ruefully, "I was a sucker."

When you buy a swanky, almost camel's hair coat and throw it away after its first trip in rain—that's serious enough. How much worse though, to want to throw your new home away after its first winter.

We all get caught more or less often on some classy, shiny, cheap article of "sucker goods."

To avoid the really great mistake of building your new home on such a basis, be sure you select a builder of proven experience and with a reputation for quality construction.

We will be glad to recommend to you one of several men whom we know to be first-quality builders.

ODDS

ENDS

By PAUL
WRIGHT

Black Ernie Carter and Brown Raoul Solis will throw lots of leather at the Highway 101 battle box tonight. This isn't merely a prediction. It's a fact.

Matchmaker George Stewart calls the main event the best he's ever offered. "If they won't turn out for this one, they won't turn out at all."

Carter, San Bernardino's 135-pounder, is the hard-puncher, type who throws a mean glove with either hand. No stand-out puncher, Solis relies on clever floor work and a punishing left to win.

"Wipe the Star-Dust from your eyes, Paul, and you'll agree Anaheim has the superior ball club," advises friendly Jimmie Heffron, sports editor of the Anaheim Bulletin.

We enjoy the daily outputs of Heffron's time-worn typewriter, but EVEN if he did rate Anaheim superior to Santa Ana in nightball, we wouldn't agree with him—just for argument's sake.

Observer Heffron doesn't believe they'll finish this way in September, but we do: 1 Huntington Beach, 2 San Bernardino, 3 Santa Ana, 4 Anaheim. (That will leave Orange, Westminster, Riverside and the defunct Colton Reds out in the cold).

San Bernardino has been strengthened by the acquisition of Francis Johnson, shortstop, and Ted Schletzer, outfielder, from Colton. Phil Wirtz, the Reds' No. 1 twirler, has hooked up with Westminster, as announced in The Journal last week.

Speaking of nightball, Floyd Montgomery of Anaheim would like to correct the impression of some fans that he has been SQUAWKING over his week's suspension, inflicted by President Walt Wentz of Garden Grove. Floyd has not been complaining. Like the sport that he is, Montgomery is paying the penalty for his brief (but interesting) fist fight with Bomo Koral of the Stars, and is doing so without criticizing Wentz, Koral or any other nightball official or player. He wants that made clear to the fans.

Wetherell Wins in East

S.A. NET STAR SCORES 4-6, 6-1, 6-3

Northwestern Contender Bows to Public Parks Defending Champ

Lewis Wetherell, University of Southern California tennis flash and son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Wetherell of Santa Ana, remained a strong contender in the National Intercollegiate Lawn Tennis singles championships at Philadelphia today.

After dropping his first set to energetic George Ball of Northwestern, Wetherell steadied himself to win, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3, yesterday. He scored a "triple" Tuesday.

Three players from the Far West, three from the South and two from the Middle West were to meet today in the quarter-final round.

Ernest Sutter of Tulane, defending champion, had a few uncomfortable moments in the second set as he defeated Morrey Lewis of Kenyon, 6-2, 9-7, yesterday.

Dick Bennett of the University of California eliminated Donald McNeil of Kenyon, 6-4, 7-6. Julius Heldman of U. C. L. A. eliminated Bill Westerfield of Tulane, 6-2, 6-1.

George Cameron of Tulsa won, 6-4, 6-2, from Gordon Reeder of Kenyon, and Bob Kamrath, Texas, won over G. Mulloy of Miami, 4-6, 6-4, 7-5.

Following the intercollegiate, Wetherell will remain in the East to defend his National Public Parks crown at Buffalo, N. Y., this summer. He won the title at St. Louis, Mo., last year.

SCARLET MR. X VS. WILSON

George Wilson, former football star, today promised to show wrestling followers and the Scarlet Mr. X, unknown heavyweight wrestler, the most devastating flying tackle on the mat today, in spite of the fact that in two previous appearances at the Orange County Athletic club, George discarded tackles exclusively for an assortment of holds and punishing grips.

Scarlet Mr. X and Wilson will clash in the semi-final of a card that has as its feature Nick Lutze vs. Lee Numa and a pair of dazzling feminine wrestlers.

The girls, contenders for the world championship among women, are Lillian Nichols and Clara Martinez. They make their bow in the first girls' contest staged in Orange county and according to club officials, a heavy advance reservation indicates a capacity crowd for the week. Tickets will be placed on sale tomorrow at the arena.

LONDON. (AP)—The synthetic "world's heavyweight championship" fight between Tommy Farr and Max Schmeling, conqueror of Joe Louis, was set tentatively today for Aug. 9 at White City.

Jim Coates of Visalia Plans to Rejoin Stars as Hurler Aug. 20

"They've been treating me too well financially, and I can't leave before Aug. 20, Jimmie Coates of Visalia told Manager 'Doc' Smith of Santa Ana's Stars by long distance telephone late yesterday.

Smith is dickering for last year's pitching star to bolster his Santa Ana lineup that has been slipping through Earl Morrill's ineffectiveness. Coates informed Smith he definitely is returning to Orange county this summer "because I'm homesick."

If Visalia wins either half of the San Joaquin Valley league season, Coates would not be able to return by Aug. 20, he said. But Visalia probably will not win, and Coates should be in the Stars' lineup for the all-important Shagnessy playoffs here. He will be eligible because his name already is on a 1937 contract with the Stars.

Smith plans to visit the Santa Ana City league games tonight in an effort to uncover new pitching talent. Morrill may quit after the Westminster game, he told the Santa Ana manager.

Brea at Tustin.

Irvine at Yorba Linda.
Holly Sugar at San Juan Capistrano.

Co-Leaders Irvine and Brea draw what they consider "breath-ers" in County league softball tonight.

The pace-setters of Ernie Lagier and Virgil Kiger both hit the road, Irvine making an 11th stand at Yorba Linda, Brea performing on Tustin's well-lighted diamond. Tustin is smarting under a terrific 24-1 lacing from Irvine, and may surprise Brea. The defeat George Dearborn's club absorbed that night is not characteristic of a Tustin nine that has been playing respectable ball most of the season.

George Stevens' San Juan Capistrano boys remain at home for a stern test with F. D. Shaw's Holly Sugar aggregation. Fullerton goes to Olive for the other game.

GIBSON, SEALS, TOPS HURLERS

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—With 12 victories against one defeat to his record, Sam Gibson of the San Francisco Seals held firm to the top rung of Pacific Coast league pitching in games played through last Tuesday.

Gibson, according to unofficial statistics compiled by Leo Moriarty, has struck out 72 batters. His nearest competitors doing regular mound duty are Ray Prim and Fay Thomas of Los Angeles, each with 11 wins and 4 losses. Prim has fanned 66 and Thomas 62.

THREE YEARS AGO—Babe Ruth smacked home run, his 11th of the year with bases loaded for his first hit in 22 times at bat.

Games Tonight
7:30 o'clock—Montgomery Ward's vs. Commercial National Bank.
8:30 o'clock—Carpenters vs. Grand Central Market.

Montgomery Ward's right to the undisputed leadership of Santa Ana City league softball will be challenged tonight by the Commercial National Bank's potent array in the 7:30 o'clock game of a free doubleheader at the Municipal bowl.

The second attraction, billed for 8:30, will pair the fifth-place Carpenters, minus their giant pitcher, Mel Miller, against the second place Grand Central Market nine, which can gain a first-place tie if all goes well. Toller has joined an automotive company team in Los Angeles.

With Armand (Lefty) Hanson in Minneapolis for a National League convention, Manager Larry Owens of the Grand Centrals will not have his full pitching strength against the Carpenters, who probably will use Wilmer Swafford in the nightcap. Walt Jordan of Ward's probably will open a mound duel with either Roy Stout or Harold or Mearl Voul of the Commercial Nationals.

Games postponed from Memorial Day—Carpenters vs. M. E. South and Montgomery Ward's vs. Grand Central Market—will be played Monday night, ending a heated first half, President Kenneth Morrison has announced.

MIDGETS RACE ON NEW BANK

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Records are expected to fall tonight when top-flight midget automobile racers compete on the newly-banked Gilmore stadium speedway.

The track's easy bank has been converted into a 30 per cent grade, engineers believe it will be a full second faster per lap than the old track, and drivers are hoping to break Ronny Householder's record of 15.62 for a lap. Sam Hanks, Mel Hansen and Peevee Distance are entered in the event tonight.

DEL MAR TRACK HAS 141 'NAGS'

DEL MAR. (AP)—More horses arrived today for the opening of the Del Mar Turf club's opening a week from Saturday. Track officials revealed 141 horses are already stabled at the track preparatory to participation in the 22-day meet. New arrivals included Boilemaker, Chicolean and Lookout Below.

BEST BATTLE OF YEAR SET TONIGHT

Black and Brown Boxers Headline Eight - Bout Amateur Offering

By KENNETH ADAMS

Raoul Solis vs. Ernie Carter! That's the standout attraction offered fight fans of Orange county for tonight's eight-bout boxing show at the Orange County Athletic club in a double "main event."

Because of Carter's sensational victory over Sailor Kid Capelli, pride of the navy, at the 101 highway scaphouse last week, for the first time in many a moon Santa Ana's flashy fighter, Solis, will enter the ring as the underdog. The San Bernardino negro is a ruthless bomber, who never backs up and who is plenty clever. Stewart expects this to be one of the greatest matches ever presented in a local club, and according to advance dope, it will be.

In the second half of the double main event Bill White, aggressive and tough San Bernardino battler, will tangle with Angel Reyes, Los Angeles scrapper, in what promises to be a rough and tumble

TONIGHT'S PROGRAM

Ernie Carter vs. Raoul Solis, 135.
Bill White vs. Angel Reyes, 138.
Jesse Brazil vs. Johnny O'Taras, heavyweights.
Babe Rosales vs. Pub Casillas, 126.
Barney Reese vs. Tereso Veloz, 165.
Tino Munoz vs. Tom Chaney, 155.
Robert Navarro vs. Eddie Morales, 122.
Jay Hastings vs. Tommy Warren, 145.

event. White is another boy who would rather slug it out than box.

Two big bruisers will clash in the special event. Giant Jesse Brazil, Midway City, will meet Johnny O'Taras, the C. Y. O. champion from Los Angeles. O'Taras has more experience, but what Brazil lacks in experience he makes up for in action and willingness. If Brazil ever lands one of his big mitts on O'Taras, it will be curtains.

One step up on the comeback ladder, clever Babe Rosales, Placentia, makes his second start after a year, with the probability that Rosales will meet a leather-throwing Los Angeles lad, Pub Casillas in the semi-windup. Rosales is really good, and is favored to win.

The popular little paperweight, Barney Reese of Atwood, one of the fastest and flashiest midgets in the business, takes on Tereso Veloz, San Bernardino, in the cup-taker. This should be a fight worth seeing. Preliminaries match Tino Munoz, Placentia, vs. Tom Chaney, Los Angeles; Robert Navarro, Atwood, vs. Eddie Morales, Los Angeles, and Jay Hastings, Orange, vs. Tommy Warren, San Bernardino.

OLD-TIME ACES HONOR CHANCE

CHICAGO. (AP)—Baseball stars of other days donned uniforms and cavorted at Wrigley field before yesterday's Cubs-New York Giants game as part of a program honoring the memory of Frank Chance, one-time Cub first baseman and the Bruins' "peerless leader" from 1906 through 1912.

Among the veterans present were Johnny Evers and Joe Tinker, who with Chance formed the famous "Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance" infield combination. Others there were Jimmy Archer, Mordecai Brown, Ward Miller, Clarence Beaumont, Jack McCarthy and Danny Cahill.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By the Associated Press
JACK WILSON and MOE BERG, Red Sox—Former fanned nine Tigers in gaining fifth victory in seven starts, by 6-5; latter led Red Sox attack with three hits and had 13 putouts.

HUGH MULCAHY, Phillies—His fourth hit pitching stopped Reds cold, 4-0.

DIZZY DEAN, Cards, and VAN MUNCHING, Dodgers—Former scored tying run and struck out seven to gain 3-2 triumph; latter pitched two-hit ball before retiring in eighth with blistered finger.

SAM LESLIE, Giants—Home run and single accounted for three runs in 8-4 victory over Cubs.

MIKE KREIVICH and LUKE APPLING, White Sox—Their homers, two of team's three hits, provided margin of 2-0 shutout of Athletics.

BEAU BELL, Browns—Got four for five, including two doubles, as Yanks were upset, 6-3.

STORY OF PUNCH THAT WON CROWN.—There's the inch-by-inch story of Jim Braddock's fate after a pair of devastating punches by Joe Louis in the eighth round of a scheduled 15 sent Jersey Jim reeling to the floor—and gave the championship to the one-time cotton-picker.

Five Cities Seek Louis

'I'm Not Washed Up Yet,' Says Braddock

By EARL HILLIGAN

CHICAGO. (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis is looking for work—"An' lots of it!"

The new ruler of ringdom, by virtue of his eight-round knock-out of James J. Braddock Tuesday night, which increased his already fat personal bankroll by about $50,000, isn't worrying about where his next meal is coming from. Nor is he planning on going into hiding with his new crown.

"Long layoffs don't do me no good," said Joe as he packed his grips preparatory to leaving tonight for Detroit and a visit with his mother. "I want to fight as often as nah managers want me to. I'd like first to meet Max Schmeling, but that's up to them to figure out."

The way things shape up, Joe won't have to worry about too long layoffs. Mike Jacobs, the New York promoter, who staged Tuesday's title bout, yesterday announced a two-year extension of his contract with the 23-year-old titleholder. The extension gives Jacobs exclusive rights to the negro's services for the next five years.

A clause in the new agreement provides for as many as four fights a year, with the probability that Louis will see action at least twice annually. Jacobs' principal concern now is landing one more fight this year, with the big objective being a Louis-Schmeling bout in September in New York. He said Detroit, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Chicago and London were bidding to put the young champion in action.

Jacobs also disclosed he has effected a three-year agreement for the fighting services of the ex-champion, Braddock. Concurring in Braddock's opinion that he is not "through," the promoter hopes to land a suitable opponent for Jersey Jim in the fall or early winter, preferably Max Baer.

Jacobs will remain here two or three days winding up final business of the bout, expected to return a promotional profit of about $100,000. He estimated about 50,000 spectators were in the White Sox park, including police, employers and holders of complimentary tickets. The paid attendance was 41,684, with gross receipts $715,420.34, including $75,000 from radio and film rights.

Braddock, who spent yesterday resting up at a South Side hotel, left early today with Mrs. Braddock for their New Jersey home. The ex-champion was in good spirits, contending that with two more tough fights he'd be ready to meet Louis again. Physically, however, he still showed vividly the effects of Louis' terrific punching. One eye was still closed, while below and above it were two bad cuts. Ten stitches had to be taken in his upper lip.

ANN TOWNSEND WINS IN GOLF

Low gross and low net competition at the Willowick golf course yesterday resulted in a tie between Mrs. H. A. Bradley and Mrs. Ann Townsend, with Mrs. Townsend winning in the play-off.

Mrs. Bradley's 99-18-81 tied two others for low net—Mrs. Pearl Livesey, 100-19-81, and Mrs. Dewey Davis, 113-32-81.

There will be an "open day" for ladies of Huntington Beach, Whitier, Long Beach and Willowick clubs at Willowick next Wednesday. Competition will be conducted in three classes, Mrs. J. L. Ainsworth, club manager, announced.

CHARGE 2 IN KENTUCKY SLAYING

HARLAN, Ky. (P)—County Judge Morris Saylor yesterday issued two murder warrants in the "ride" killing of Washington (Ash) Irvin, 33, former Harlan county deputy sheriff who was under protection of the United States senate civil liberties committee.

Judge Saylor said Allen Bowling, who resigned Tuesday as a deputy following the dismissal of Deputy Lee Fleenor, was held in jail on one of the warrants, and that P. G. Noe, a deputy, was sought.

Irvin was found shot to death yesterday on Pine mountain, about 15 miles northeast of Harlan. George Lee, who resigned as a deputy Tuesday with Irvin and Bowling, said he found Irvin slumped over the steering wheel of his automobile.

"He was taken for a ride and killed," said Judge Saylor.

Judge Saylor said he was investigating to determine whether the killing had any connection with testimony involving Irvin before the senate civil liberties committee this year. Chairman Robert M. LaFollette said the committee would look into the fatal shooting to determine whether further investigation was justified.

MEXICAN HAVEN FOR WAR ORPHANS—Transferred from their war-torn homeland, more than 500 Spanish children have been taken to Mexico, where the government will lodge and educate them. Above, President Lazaro Cardenas, left center, meets some of them in Mexico City, while they were en route to Morelia, State of Michoacan. Most of the 500 were orphans.

RAIL MEN PLAN STRIKE VOTE

CHICAGO (P)—The five operating railroad brotherhoods, resolved to force negotiations on pending wage increase demands, called upon their 300,000 members today to cast strike votes within 30 days.

Union officials emphasized the primary objective of the move was to pave the way for intervention by the federal railway board.

The ballots will be mailed to members within a week and the vote will be canvassed by union heads at a meeting here the week of July 26.

The brotherhoods have demanded a 20 per cent wage increase retroactive to May 1, 1937, when previous contracts expired.

SHRINE NAMES NEW OFFICERS

DETROIT (P)—Karl Rex Hambers, past potentate of Syria temple, Pittsburgh, Pa., was elected imperial order guard of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine at the 63rd imperial council meeting here late yesterday.

In normal succession he would become imperial potentate in 10 years.

Leonard P. Stewart, of Washington, D. C., was elected for his first full term as imperial treasurer. He was serving under appointment to fill a vacancy. James H. Price, of Richmond, Va., was returned as imperial recorder.

Device at Gray's Tests Watch Speed

A new scientific development has been added to the equipment of Gray's Jewelry store in Santa Ana. It is an electrical device called the Paulson micrometer, that can tell in only one minute how fast or slow your watch is running and how much it loses or gains in 24 hours.

Gray invites the public to see this instrument at his new store, 409 North Main street, and to have watches tested and regulated free. The micrometer is about the size of a small radio, registers to a fraction of a second just how much a time piece is gaining or losing per minute.

16-INCH GUNS ON NEW WARSHIPS

WASHINGTON (P)—President Roosevelt has indicated the navy's two new battleships will carry 16-inch guns. A proposed international ban on guns larger than 14 inches fell through after Japan refused to agree.

Japan is understood to contend that genuine naval reduction could be accomplished only through quantity limits and not by restricting the size of guns.

The navy decided Wednesday to build both of the new 35,000-ton men-o-war in government shipyards. The President said the difference between the estimated cost of building in navy yards and in private yards was about $10,000,000.

PACIFIC PEACE PACT PUSHED

LONDON (P)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told commons yesterday that Great Britain will proceed with efforts for a non-aggression pact binding the powers bordering the Pacific ocean.

"Suitable opportunities for consulting those primarily concerned," including Japan and the United States, will be taken on the suggestion of Premier J. A. Lyons of Australia, the secretary said.

Balm Winner Seeks Divorce

LOS ANGELES (P)—A divorce suit in which Mrs. Christine Fitzpatrick asks custody of their son, Michael, 9, and alimony from Michael W. Fitzpatrick, handsome ship's purser, was on file today.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick recently won a $30,000 judgment in an alienation of affections suit against Mrs. Thelma Clark, widow of William A. Clark III, grandson of the late Montana senator and copper magnate.

Salinas May Try Parking Meters

Primitive Surgery Success; Victim Leaves Hospital

YALE'S HIGHEST HONOR TO HULL

NEW HAVEN (P)—Yale university yesterday conferred its highest award, an honorary degree of doctor of laws, on Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Ten others, among them China's minister of finance, Hsiang-Hsi Kung, and Stephen Vincent Benet, the author, received honorary degrees. In addition, the university conferred 1147 degrees in course at its 236th commencement exercises.

Like the American cabinet member, Dr. Kung, who 30 years ago received a Master's degree at Yale, was made a Doctor of Laws. Benet, who was graduated from the university in 1919, was given the degree of Doctor of Letters.

Maximum Work Day Predicted

WASHINGTON (P)—Members of the senate and house labor committees predicted today a maximum work day as well as a maximum work week will be written into the administration's labor standards bill.

SANTA BARBARA (P)—A primitive surgical operation with a common sacking needle and some fish twine, and without anesthetic, was so effective that Robert L. Brooks, sheep rancher, was discharged from Cottage hospital yesterday.

He was injured Sunday on lonely San Miguel island, where he lives. Brooks was helping Herbert Lester, "the king of San Miguel," build a pier when he slipped, fell, and ripped a deep gash in his thigh. There are no doctors or surgical supplies on the island.

Lester threatened a heavy needle with fish twine. Brooks stood erect, gripping a pole. In that manner, the wound was sewn together. Then Brooks was taken across the channel to Santa Barbara.

He was released yesterday and doctors said he would not lose the use of his leg.

LAND FLIGHT IN SEAPLANE PLANNED

SAN DIEGO (P)—Richard Archbold, 30, research associate of the American Museum of Natural History, will attempt a 2700-mile non-stop transcontinental flight from San Diego to New York City in a huge $250,000 flying boat this week-end.

Archbold expects to take off from San Diego bay at 4:30 p. m. Saturday. He hopes to land at North Beach airport, New York City, within 18 hours. He will have a crew of five or six men aboard.

If successful, this will be the first transcontinental hop by a flying boat. It is the same type as the 12 navy patrol planes which this week completed a record 3085-mile non-stop flight from San Diego to Coco Solo, Canal Zone. Like the navy planes, it was built by Consolidated Aircraft Corporation here.

"The present rate of collections," Leask said, "indicates the fund will approximate $65,000,000 for the two years of collections and most of this sum will be ready for the payment of unemployment benefits after the first of January, 1938.

"Benefits will be paid only to workers who have contributed to the fund, and are out of jobs after that date."

belittled those outside its realm."

Whoever Wins in Spain, Kids Lose

By The AP Feature Service

WAR WAS FUN at first for many Spanish children. Babes in arms became babes with arms playing soldier for fun.

THEN WAR SHOWED IT UGLY SIDE.—In a nightmare of screaming shells, the tots dropped their wooden guns and fled with harried mothers to refuge. In Madrid, they huddled in the subway; elsewhere they clustered in open fields and caves.

PANIC-STRICKEN little boys who would ordinarily be in school suddenly found themselves orphaned.

NOBODY WANTED TO PLAY SOLDIER AFTER THAT.—The big boys—only in their 'teens—have taken up their dead fathers' weapons. But the younger children's one thought has been—escape. Many, especially of the Basque, has been taken to England; others, like this group, found refuge in France.

SAFE AT LAST in a foreign land, they wolf down food, learn to laugh again, play peacetime games. But many will never see their parents.
These tots have already lost the war.

TAXES RAISE ONLY HALF OF TOTAL

Santa Ana Coffers Get
$707,041 in Twelve
Month Period

Santa Ana's total income in the fiscal year ending June 30 amounted to $707,041.54, it was revealed today in an annual report submitted to the city council by City Auditor Lloyd Banks.

This is largest income the city has had since the fiscal year of 1930-31, when the total was $743-987.99. Last year the total income was $707,041.54.

The figures revealed that general taxes this year raised $348-
704.21, as compared with $380-
670.10 last fiscal year. The percentage raised by general taxes,
49.32, was the lowest in the past seven years.

Other Income Rises
Income from sources other than taxes, however, was higher this year than since 1930-31, amounting to $316,470.13 in the year just ending, as compared with $272-275.45 last year. The percentage of the total income from these sources this year was 44.75, the highest in seven years recorded.
Last year it was 38.63.

Taxes on assessment and improvement districts this year accounted for $41,867.20, the lowest income from this source in many years. Last year the total was $568,850.65, but was considerably lower this year was 5.93, as compared with 7.35 last year.

Total Disbursements from all operating and special funds, amounting to—$592,643.94 this year, were slightly higher than last year, when the total was $568,850.65, but was considerably under the year 1930-31, when the total was $707,246.96. Total disbursements from all funds this year aggregated $669,995.30 as compared with $648,454.69 last year and $795,069.36 in the year 1930-31.

The difference between the operating and special funds is made up by interest and sinking fund expenditures, which amounted to $77,351.36 this year, as compared with $79,604.04 last year and $87,822.40 in 1930-31.

Mrs. Jay C. Hamill presented a large number of her young piano pupils Tuesday evening in a charming recital in her studio at 1901 North Main street, where parents and friends gathered to hear an interesting program.

Bargain Counter Articles Appear Cheap to Those Who Know Damaged Goods

She signed herself "Private Secretary." She presented her problem in these columns Monday prefacing it with this bit of youthful ego that she's 26 and knows what life is all about.

She was divorced, fell into a good position and deliberately tried to "vamp" her boss, 15 years her senior, who is also married.

Then she met a man of her own age and married him. Her employer gradually became attracted to her and showed her the little courtesies which her husband does not. Now, after a year of this sort of thing, she thinks she loves them both and asks where it will all end.

She wrote her own ticket at the close of her letter when she stated, "Don't tell me to leave my office or to leave my home, because that advice will fall on deaf ears."

In that case what can she do but hang onto both men as long as she can?

A reader answered her today: Dear Miss Stoddard: Seldom is advice as wisely given as yours to Private Secretary. People who ask for advice, generally do not want to take it. They want to be agreed with, and made to feel misunderstood and unjustly treated. It is evident in your column time and again, and will continue so. Only the wise are bent on profiting by the experience of others.

This woman sees herself mirror clear, and knows exactly where she stands. That is why she tells you not to oppose her. She wants something for nothing—license to do as she pleases without paying for it. She wishes not to be thought cheap, yet she knows that many articles on the bargain counter do not appear cheap except to those who know damaged goods. Bargain hunters seldom know. When they do, they may restore sworn things to use, but they never mistake them for new.

Codes and rules of conduct are laid down by the intelligent for guidance to mental and emotional impetuous of all ages, to keep them from harm to themselves and others. Discriminating people can guide and direct their lives without interference except from within themselves.

All Private Secretary needs to do is to stop wobbling. Make up her mind what she wants to do, stay with it as long as it lasts, and be woman enough to take her punishment when it comes. By the time she finds out it was not worth it, it will be too late. And if it is worth it, be fair and pay the price. SAPPO.

BEACH PARTY FOR FORMER SCHOOLMATES

Reunited again by vacation after separation during their year at various colleges, six former Santa Ana High school friends gathered for a jolly beach party at the Clarence Nisonson cottage at Newport Beach.

The six making up the party were the Mesdames Margaret Munro, Florence Liggett, and Patty Rapp, all home from college; Art Nisonson and Bill Hawkins, who also have been away at other camps during the past year, and Vic Rowland, who has been attending Junior college here.

Swimming, a ballgame on the beach, cards, and other diversions occupied the group during the day, with an outdoor luncheon during a lull in the activity.

Say Farewell At Dinner Courtesy

Another lovely courtesy in which Mrs. Thomas Glenn, leaving soon for Mills college summer school, shared with others who are departing on summer trips was the buffet supper at which Mrs. Robert Northcross entertained last night in her home at 1318 Spurgeon street.

Guests were all members of the junior college faculty. Flowers through the rooms had been gathered by the hostess from her own garden and arranged in artistic bouquets.

Enjoying the supper and the evening of contract which followed were Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Hammond and daughter, Betty; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips and son, Dick; Mr. and Mrs. Alan Revill, Miss Lillian Dickinson, Alice Todd Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn, and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Revill won the prizes in the card games, and four lucky awards went to Mr. Hammond, Miss Hammond, Mrs. Phillips and Dick Phillips.

PRETTY SHOWER COURTESY FOR RECENT BRIDE

Late May nuptials which joined in marriage Miss Bethel Dickinson and Lelan Alsip are still forming the incentive for a gay series of courtesies given by her friends.

One of the most recent was the miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Eugene Anderson at her home at 119 El Portal, where a green and yellow color scheme made a pretty setting.

Following bridge, prizes in which went to Mrs. Terry Stephenson, Jr., Mrs. Alsip, and Miss Genevieve Glover, refreshments were served at the little tables, green and yellow nut cups marking the places.

The gifts, opened at the end of the evening, were arranged on the large table which was centered with a miniature bride and bridegroom and with flowers and lighted tapers.

Guests at the pretty evening party were Mrs. L. E. Richards and daughter, Betty, of Glendale; Mrs. Don Smith, Miss Nona Perinich, and Miss Blanche Illingsworth, of Los Angeles; Mrs. Barbara Jenkins, Mrs. Evan Jones, Miss Cara Fellows, and the honored guest, Mrs. Alsip, of Balboa; Mrs. Richard Seba of Orange.

From Santa Ana, Mrs. Edwin Dickinson, mother of the bride; Mesdames Terry Stephenson, Jr., Emily Dyer, Ed Sullivan, Mabel Cummings, Norman Paul, Jack Wilson, and Thomas Jentges, the Misses Genevieve Glover, Bea Cleveland, Betty Marston, Lois Courtney, and Alice Boyd, and the hostess.

JOYCE LOVING HAS SIXTH BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Earl Loving entertained at a gay little birthday party at her home on Third street, to honor her daughter, Joyce, on the occasion of her sixth birthday.

The children enjoyed games on the lawn before the big, pink and green birthday cake was brought out and served with ice cream. All of the guests were in tones of pink and green.

Bridge games later resulted in awarding of prizes to Miss Natalie Neff, first, and Miss Alberta Greene, second; and a farewell gift was also presented to the guest of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Croddy and two brothers and sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Curtis Mathis of Fort Worth, Tex., who are visiting at the Croddy home, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mathes of Los Angeles, will accompany Miss Mathes to San Francisco, leaving tomorrow morning for the north.

Mathes will sail Saturday night aboard the S. S. Coolidge for a summer sojourn in China.

SPURGEON MISSIONARY TEA TOMORROW

Spurgeon Memorial Missionary society will have an African program and tea tomorrow when the members meet at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Allison Honer, 615 West Santa Clara street, and all interested are cordially invited to meet with them.

Susanah Wesley will be in charge, and Mrs. A. A. Jones will lead devotionals. Concluding six months of study of the book, "Out of Africa," by Emery Ross, the group has arranged an appropriate program for tomorrow, featuring as speaker the Rev. W. R. Holder of Orange, formerly a missionary in Africa.

Two members of the colored Second Baptist church will sing African songs, and a social hour will follow. All are welcome.

YOUNG WOMEN HOME FOR VACATIONS

A group of Orange county misses who have been with the government in Washington, D. C., for from one to several years returned this week to spend the summer visiting with their families.

Among them are Misses June Naylor of 1212 Lacy street, Santa Ana; Miss Katharyn Conway of El Modena, and Miss Patricia Ferris of Anaheim. The trio was accompanied by Miss Aimee Arceneau of Syracuse, N. Y., who will spend some time with all of them at their various homes.

The gay party was joined by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Smith and their son, Dick, of Orange, and all spent a pleasant evening in the pretty garden where the event took place. Mr. Thornburgh will spend two weeks in the mountains, returning to the family home at 1320 Louise street early in July.

Yuma Rites Announced Today

Coming as a surprise to their friends here in Santa Ana was announcement made today of the marriage June 17 in Yuma of Miss Tessie Childers, daughter of Mrs. W. C. Childers and the late Mr. Childers, of Santa Ana, and Merion Butler, son of Mrs. Olive Butler, also of this city.

The couple were married quietly in the Arizona city by the Rev. Mr. Sloan, pastor of the Baptist church of Yuma, and went from there to Fresno, where they attended the chicken raisers' convention.

They were attended by the bride's mother, who is owner of Childers' hatchery in Santa Ana. Returning to Santa Ana Tuesday, they then departed for Big Bear. They will be at home after July 1 at 618 North Baker street, the Childers home, where they will reside during Mrs. Childers' absence in the east while attending the national chicken raisers' convention in Baltimore.

A graduate of Santa Ana Junior college and the University of California, Miss Childers taught for a short period at Willard Junior High school, and a year ago at the death of her father became associated in the chicken business with her mother. She is a member of Elhail club.

Mr. Butler received his early schooling in Santa Ana, and is also in business with Mrs. Childers.

HAWAIIAN PARTY IS FAREWELL GESTURE

Miss Natalie Neff of 1801 Bush street, who left Wednesday evening on the S. S. Mariposa for Honolulu to be a bridesmaid at a friend's wedding, has been the recipient of several lovely courtesies, none more pleasing than the Hawaiian dinner given by Mrs. William Comito and Miss Jean Lieve in the former's home Monday night.

A lovely native scene had been arranged in the center of the table, with a grass hut, palm trees, a canoe and dolls in grass skirts, giving a truly tropical effect; as did also the costume of Miss Jean Allen, Mrs. Comito's sister, who helped in the serving. Places were marked with yellow and orange leis.

Games which are played on shipboard were the order of the evening, and high honors went to Miss Betty Smedley, second to Miss Elizabeth Downie.

Guests of the evening, besides Miss Neff and the two hostesses, were Mrs. Raymond Trevorrow, Mrs. S. C. Hall and the Misses Hazel Berge, Betty Smedley, Elizabeth Downie, Mary Tuthill, Juanita Pico, Mildred Rohrs, Evelyn Richardson and Jean Allen.

Miss Neff will serve as a bridesmaid in the wedding of Miss Chloe Vincent, who was her classmate at Santa Barbara State college, and who was born in the Hawaiian Islands. She is on her way to the islands with the bride-to-be and her sister, Miss Elizabeth Vincent, who will also be an attendant.

At the wedding, which will be solemnized in a church in the home town of the Vincent family, Miss Neff will be a guest of the bride's family, remaining in the islands about six weeks.

Mother's Day may be past, but mother's vacation is just starting for the women of Orange county who wish to take advantage of the Farm Bureau Home Department summer camp which opens June 27 and closes July 1 at Camp Bethel in San Dimas canyon, just northwest of Pomona.

The camp is open to all women in the county. Arrangements should be made with Miss Frances Liles, home demonstration agent of the county farm bureau, whose office is with those of the farm advisor's office in the courthouse annex, Santa Ana.

Plans are complete for four days of entertainment and rest. Handicraft, nature study, music appreciation, swimming and hiking are offered. Special programs have been compiled for each night in camp, with a masquerade on one night, and a prize offered for the most original costume.

The total cost including meals is to be $5 plus a 25-cent camp fund. For part time in camp, the rates will be $1.50 per day and single meals at 25 cents for breakfast and luncheon and 75 cents for dinner. The total cost of $5 will include dinner Sunday night. Further information may be obtained from Miss Liles.

At a recent potluck supper and dance attended by 150 veterans and their guests, Mrs. Sullivan presented lovely corsages she had made to Mrs. Irene Stewart, president of the auxiliary; to Mrs. J. E. Kellogg, mother of Ernest Kellogg for whom the post was named, and to her husband and Glenn Hendrickson.

The gay party was joined by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Smith and their son, Dick, of Orange, and all spent a pleasant evening in the pretty garden where the event took place. Mr. Thornburgh will spend two weeks in the mountains, returning to the family home at 1320 Louise street early in July.

Departure of Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Thornburgh and their son, Francis, for a month's vacation at Big Bear yesterday was incentive for the informal barbecue and steak bake Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Tapscott, 1610 Ninth street.

Baffled Brides Should Brush Up on Their Definitions!

We've all heard the story about the bride setting forth to "bake" a turkey, solemnly reading the instructions, and religiously stitching it with a needle and thread every twenty minutes, because the recipe said it must be "basted" that frequently! There are loads of terms used in cooking that some of the most experienced cooks don't know how to define. Usage has given them an idea of how to go about doing what the recipes call for, but no wonder our poor brides get into difficulties! And since we've had a record marrying week this sunny June, here's a bride's cooking dictionary—until she masters the exact meanings of all the words herein, she'll never be able to turn out successful dishes.

To stir is to mix ingredients. One stir for the purpose of blending materials, using a circular motion. To beat is to turn the ingredients over and over for the purpose of incorporating air into the mixture. Use a rotary motion constantly turning the material over and over, bringing what is at the bottom to the top. Beat with a long swing.

To fold is to cut one ingredient or mixture into another with a spatula or spoon held in an upright position. Repeated downward motions are made, the spoon touching the bottom of the bowl with each stroke. When the material is brought to the top it actually is folded over the remaining mixture. This process is continued until the materials are blended. The cutting and folding method prevents the escape of the air previously beaten into the material.

To blanch means literally to "make white." In cooking it has two meanings. The first is to dip in boiling water, drain and rinse in cold water. The second meaning is applied to nuts and means to remove the skins by putting in boiling water for a few minutes.

To boil is to add highly seasoned materials to a dish to make it hot to the taste.

To marinate is to let material stand in French dressing, a salt solution, tart liquid or a syrup.

To parboil is to boil until the material is partially done. One-third to one-half the full time of cooking usually is implied by the phrase.

To boil is to cook in actively bubbling water. There is no advantage in hard boiling—a galloping boil—except where material is to be kept apart by the rapidly moving water.

To simmer is to cook slowly just below the boiling point. The boiling of water is 212 degrees F. and the simmering point is 185 degrees F., so any temperature between the two allows for simmering. At the simmering point tiny bubbles rise continually to the surface and break, causing a little steam. This is a slow process.

To sear is to harden the surface of meat or other food material to prevent the escape of juices. This is accomplished by the quick application of intense heat.

To lard is to thread lean meat with narrow strips of fat. Salt pork or bacon can be used for larding. The strips of fat are called lardons and a larding needle is necessary to draw them thru the meat. Larding sometimes is accomplished by making gashes in the meat and forcing the lardons in top.

To saute is to brown food in a small quantity of fat.

To braise is to cook in a closely covered pan with a small amount of liquid. Braising is really a combination of simmering and baking and is a long time method.

Wedding Date Revealed At Shower

That July 17 will be the wedding day of Miss Ruth Berg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Berg of San Francisco, and Carl H. (Bill) Vorce, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Vorce of 1125 Orange avenue, Santa Ana, was revealed to friends last night at a charming shower courtesy given for the bride-to-be by Miss Gladys Marguerat.

The Marguerat home at 511 Freeman avenue was the setting for the party, and the rooms were decorated with summer flowers for the occasion.

The honor guest, Miss Marguerat presented a gardenia corsage, which was lovely on her dress of thistle-colored silk. The hostess wore a gown of navy blue and white.

After the games which filled the evening hours, the guests were seated at small tables decorated in the bridal motif, a miniature bridegroom on a mirror surrounded by clusters of flowers, centering that at which the bride found her place.

Announcement Made Tiny bridesmaid vases held flowers for the other two tables, and the ice cream molds served with angel food cakes were centered with hearts. At each place was a cellophane bag filled with colored rice and tied with white ribbon, to which were attached little scrolls bearing the words, "Use this for Ruth and Bill on July 17."

Beautiful linen gifts were presented to the honored guest in the shower following the refreshment course. Prizes at the close of the bridge games went to Miss Howell, first, and to Mrs. Hill, second, each receiving a pottery gift; and low award, a pair of holders, went to Mrs. Vorce.

Those participating in the shower courtesy, in addition to the bride-elect and the hostess, were the following:

Fourteen Guests Mrs. C. H. Vorce, mother of the bridegroom-to-be, and his two sisters, the Mesdames Betty and Barbara Vorce; Mrs. Wilbur Goodrich, mother of the hostess; Mrs. Forrest E. Bennett, Mrs. A. W. Rimmel, Mrs. Norma Hill of Temple, and the Misses Lucille Howell, JoAnn Baker, Dorothy Preble, Eleanor Wisner, Norma Wilson, and the hostess.

Miss Berg, who received her early schooling in Alhambra and later was graduated from San Francisco State college, has been teaching this past year in San Gabriel and has been a frequent visitor to Santa Ana.

Mrs. Vorce has been a resident of Santa Ana for about seven years. He was employed for a time in the First National bank and later was secretary treasurer of Raitt's Rich Milk company until he went north the first of this year to take an accountancy position with the Peacock dairy in Bakersfield.

Their wedding is to be solemnized at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of July 17 at the Santa Ana Wedding chapel.

TRI-QUAD CLUB HONORS BRIDE-TO-BE

Tri-quad club members chose last night, when they met at the home of Miss Helen Allen at 1404 French street, to honor one of their members who will be a bride on July 2, Miss Grace Anderson.

Contract games filled the early part of the evening, with prizes going to Mrs. Joseph May, Mrs. Robert Moore and Miss Jeannette Jergensen, and at the conclusion of the games a group of the dining room where a table had been decorated in a bridal motif with a white bell and crystal dishes and silver coffee service. A bowl of mixed flowers was the only touch of color in the room.

Miss Ruth Allen assisted her sister in her hostess duties. Before the end of the evening the group presented an electric toaster to Miss Anderson as their wedding gift.

Present, with Miss Anderson and the hostess, were Mrs. Thomas Pangle, Robert Moore, Frances Lacy and the Misses Blanche Siegel, Edna Mae Heim, Jeannette Jergensen, Margaret Young and Rose Allen.

BEAUCEANT IN CARD LUNCHEON

Enjoying a demonstration luncheon put on by the Krafz company yesterday in the Masonic temple, members and friends of the Social Order of the Beauceant gathered at pretty flower-decked tables for an informal hour before their regular meeting and social afternoon.

The tables were decorated in yellow and white, with crystal vases at intervals holding daisies and coccinellids.

After luncheon, the guests went to the women's lounge where 21 tables were in readiness for contract and auction games.

Contrast prizes at the close went to Mrs. Wessell and Mrs. S. A. Jones, and auction awards to Mrs. Alice Tolhurst and Mrs. E. H. Waltz. The high prizes were angelfood cakes donated by the members.

Five lucky prizes went to Mrs. A. G. Lavery, Mrs. Fred Cole, Mrs. Phillip LaLonde, Mrs. Henry Meyers, and Mrs. Dean Wessell.

Mrs. Rowland Yeagle and Mrs. Lillian Dawson had charge of the card games, Mrs. W. E. Patter, the prizes, and Mrs. Arthur Koepsel, the luncheon.

Treatment Of Varicose Veins Told

By CLAUD CHRISMAN, M. D.

Varicose veins are unnatural, irregular, permanently dilated veins, usually seen along the inner side of the thigh, under the knee and on the sides and back of the leg. The veins appear twisted and elongated and stand out from the surrounding skin.

If they involve a large number of small veins, the skin appears dark. They only cause pain when they are obstructed by a blood clot, or become inflamed by infection, or are greatly distended from long standing on the feet.

Varicose veins of one kind or another are common and appear in over 20 per cent of adults. The great majority of people show indications of dilation before the age of 25. Hemorrhoids and varicose veins are common examples of varicose veins but we shall consider only those appearing on the legs.

The common causes are: Some form of obstruction to the return of blood through the veins, weak heart action, and weak muscular coats of the distended vein itself.

The tendency to develop varicose veins is often hereditary and those whose families are prone to dilated veins should not delay treatment when they first appear.

Treatment depends on the local condition. The general health and circulation should be improved. Massage, rest in bed or elevation of the limbs relieves the strain on the veins. All constricting bands around the waist or legs must be avoided. If there is pain or swelling, bandages to support the circulation are useful.

Sometimes we must open the vein and remove the blood clot after tying above and below the clot.

Lately a new method of cure has been developed which is quite successful and is much less bother and more permanent. It consists of injecting various irritating drugs which set up a local inflammatory reaction and close that vein. It is not of little use. It should not be used with a bed-ridden patient but with those who can be up and around to prevent clot formation, it is the method of choice.

Sauces Dress Up Lots Of Foods

By JUDITH WILSON

I like good food simply prepared. Still, sometimes even the tenderest, juiciest beefsteak tastes better if it is served with a savory sauce made dippy with a dash of tabasco. Broiled swordfish or shad are good enough for gourmets just as they come, but after these fish have made their appearance many times, they'll be more welcome with a simple sauce.

The trouble is that American cooks know very little about sauces. They mask choice vegetables with a doughy mass they call a cream sauce or send in a brownish, thickish liquid with fat floating on top and call it gravy.

Master half a dozen really good sauces and see how much good cooking is improved.

Sauce Bonne Femme

Heat 1/2 cup butter in a saucepan until light brown in color but not scorched. Add 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon capers, salt and dash of tabasco sauce. Serve over fish. Also good with fried eggs.

Cream Sauce (for Steak)

Cream 1/2 cup butter and mix with 1 large sweet Spanish onion that has been minced very fine. Spread on sizzling hot broiled steak just as it comes from the oven or pan.

Hollandaise

Melt 1/2 cup butter in a double boiler. Meanwhile, beat the yolks of 2 eggs until thick and lemon-colored. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt, a dash of cayenne pepper and 3 tablespoons of the melted butter. Then add the remaining butter alternately with 1 tablespoon lemon juice, until all has been used. Unless served immediately, store in the refrigerator until ready to use.

This is good with cold boiled salmon, with oysters or with boiled beef or veal. Beat 1/2 cup sour or sweet cream until stiff and fold in 4 tablespoons grated horseradish, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 4 teaspoon salt and a few grains pepper. Horseradish should be freshly grated if possible.

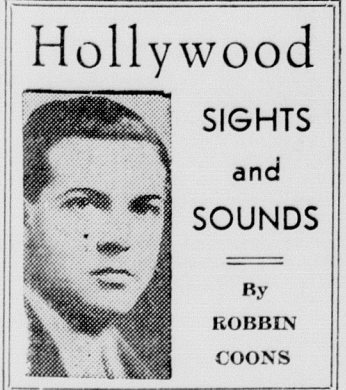

English Bread Sauce

Cook for 20 minutes 1 1/2 cups milk with 1/2 cup fine bread crumbs and 1 small onion sliced thin. Remove the onion, and 1 teaspoon salt, a dash of cayenne pepper, 3 tablespoons butter. Sprinkle thickly with 1/2 cup of coarse bread crumbs that have been browned in butter until crisp. Serve with roast or boiled chicken or toast guinea hen.

WESTERN FILM FOR PRINCESS

With Buck Jones in the starring role, a western thriller entitled "Border Law," will be shown Friday and Saturday nights at the Princess theater, following the all-Spanish talkie, "El Primo Basilio," which closes its run tonight.

In addition to "Border Law," the theater will show chapter No. 3 of the serial, "The Vigilantes are Coming."

Hollywood SIGHTS and SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD.—The worst feature of the film "Parnell" will be its strongest box-office asset. Clark Gable plays the Irish statesman.

Once you get accustomed to Ohio's Gable in the role of a man who may follow through with him. But the going is made more difficult by the liberal sprinkling of authentic Irish and British players in support and by the painstaking atmosphere exacting displayed throughout.

John M. Stahl worked mightily on direction, and the result is an above-average, less-than-epic film, Myrna Loy, as the woman whose love scandalizes Parnell's fight for Irish home rule to defeat, will help the box-office too. Miss Loy, incidentally, was not the only woman who cried at the preview.

Pat On The Back

Walking on the theater foyer set for "This Way, Please," Robert Florey found it decorated with posters for two Paramount pictures. Before shooting began, however, these posters had been replaced by displays on two other Paramount pictures: "King of Gamblers" and "Mountain Music." Both the latter, according to the poster credits, were directed by Robert Florey.

NEW SHOW NOW AT BROADWAY

Paired for the third time, Robert Young and Florence Rice have the leading roles in "Married Before Breakfast," which opens an engagement today at the Broadway theater with a second feature, "Meet the Missus."

As a carefree young inventor in "Married Before Breakfast," Robert Young becomes enmeshed in a series of laugh-provoking adventures with Miss Rice. Barnett Parker, as Young's valet, is responsible for much of the comedy. Other featured roles are taken by June Clayworth and Hugh Marlowe. Principal sets for the entertaining and fast-moving romantic comedy include a palatial Fifth Avenue mansion, a swank hotel suite, a boarding house and travel agency.

Co-stars of "Meet the Missus," a hilarious comedy which deals with the unusual events during a convention at Atlantic City where legions of women are gathered to compete for the title of the Average American Housewife, or "Missus America," are Victor Moore and Helen Broderick. Miss Broderick is acclaimed as the enterprising, but fun starts when the true power behind the kitchen range is revealed. Romantic leads are taken by Anne Shirley and Alan Bruce.

A special selection of short subjects has been booked to show with the double feature program, including "Double Talk," a one-reel novelty comedy with the radio stars, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy; a scenic travelogue, "Rocky Mountain Grandeur"; a colored cartoon and World News events.

Life Can't Begin if You Feel Inferior

"Oh, he wouldn't want to meet me," thinks the girl who's afraid to join the gay group around the honor guest.

That's the trouble with inferiority feelings. When life does offer you a chance to know worthwhile people, to get a worth-while job—they do their vicious worst.

And why? You let them take root by brooding constantly on defects that are really unimportant.

Do you feel inferior because you missed college? If you keep up with the world, read the new books, you'll be far more interesting than the average graduate.

Or are you self-conscious about your looks? Perhaps because you're too much with a friend who's a "beauty"? Forget her charms. Think of—and improve—your own.

And how a little wholesome conceit helps you—even if it's just about your skill at knitting.

Let our 32-page booklet show you how to conquer self-consciousness, inferiority feelings, to become the person you can be.

Send 10c for our copy of Overcoming Self-Consciousness and Other Inferiority Complexes to The Journal Home Service. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Bathing girls!

They seemed to be scattered all over the country. To the right and left and all around!

First, Warbling William Gallienne, Callopo of the Coves at Huntington Beach, announces a super-colossal, gigantic and never-to-be-forgotten affaire-de-whooops in his thriving community. "What," asks Warbling William, "is a Fourth of July celebration without bathing girls?"

So he's arranging for a battle of beautiful babes, for masses of mermaids and a parade of pulchritude. As an attraction to draw as much talent as possible into the competition of comeliness, Bill has announced that Major John Thomas will be announcer for the affair, which will be held Monday, July 5.

Major Africa, Bill hints on the side, may even exhibit a new pair of socks for the occasion. Which, my chickadees, will guarantee success of the celebration. When John Thomas goes abutting socks, salesmen tremble and boards-of-trade and merchants' associations declare a half-holiday. Screams of shivering salesmen of saratorial splendor for male feet can be heard for blocks, and John hurrows through piles of elegant socks in search of just the right hue to match his mood.

And, after each expedition, he pops up with a pair of foot-warmers that even make his boss, Marcus McCallen, howl with ecstasy! So, between the Africa socks and the bathing girls, the Huntington Beach affair should be an unqualified success!

We've slipped aside from the original topic of bathing girls. The usually staid and unexcited Imperial Highway association also is going in for such exhibitions.

Once before—I think it was at Glen Ivy, too—they had a similar affair, and even since that time George Kellogg has been telling me what I missed.

This time, he promises, the bathing parade, swimming for members in the sulphur plunge and dancing afterward will draw a huge crowd, and urges instant reservations if anyone plans to attend. The business is Friday evening, so you'd better get busy if you expect to be there!

I think that's only scratching the surface of the 'bathing girl' business. One can't begin to imagine son passing without Harry Welch at Newport-Balboa arranging at least one such affair, can one?

And, although Laguna Beachers sort of frown on such displays, we might start a campaign for a like affair there. The field seems to be wide open since the bitter bathing feud some weeks ago!

Once, a year or so ago, Clyde Simmons, now editor of the Tustin News and at that time the same of the Yorba Linda Star, attacked persons who drop kittens and pups alongside the road to starve or be run over.

As I remember, Clyde's outburst was due to abandonment of a kitten at Corona Del Mar. (Right?) He huffed and puffed something awful, and perhaps it did some good. I hope the time, and still do, that some cat-and-pup abandoner would read the article and take heed.

But I wish he'd write another! The situation at Newport seems to require a lot of writing. That, or perhaps a shooting.

Summer residents, it seems, arrive with their nine kids and four cats and two dogs. They stay awhile, and when time comes to pack up and go back home, there's never enough room. So half of the cat and dog quota is left behind.

These unfortunates undoubtedly are forgotten immediately the family leaves. But they're still roaming around in the harbor district. Calls already have started coming to the police station. Stray cats and dogs.

And what can the police do about it? They're all nice guys. They like cats and dogs, but it'd take a whole acre and a warehouse to take care of the strays, so all they can do is dispose of 'em. That should make the eyes of every dog and cat-lover water.

Some of the cops suggest horse-whipping for the unkind humans who thus pass a death sentence on their unsuspecting pets. Others recommend a swift kick. Both seem like too humane treatment to me!

Which reminds of the little episode not so long back. Someone called the police department from an inland town.

They wanted instant action. They'd forgotten their baby—20 months old, I think it was—on the beach, and wanted a cop to see if it was still there.

So a patrolman hotfooted it down to the beach. A high tide was sweeping up on the sand, and lapping at the blue left behind the child. Happily, the youngster was asleep. He rescued the baby and, I hope, expressed his opinion of such forgetfulness!

HEARING SET TUESDAY FOR GARDEN GROVE ZONING PLAN

'MODEL TOWN' PLAN TO BE DISCUSSED

Commission to Meet Residents in Move to Outline Program

GARDEN GROVE.—In an attempt to gain more public sentiment regarding a proposed zoning ordinance for the Garden Grove district, members of the county planning commission have set another public hearing on the matter, it was announced today.

Tuesday, June 29, at 7:30 p. m. is the time set for the hearing, which will be held in the Washington school.

L. Deming Tilton, consultant for the planning commission, will be present at the hearing, to discuss the plan and answer questions, it was announced. All residents of the community have been urged to attend the hearing, as action of the commission has been delayed until further expression of opinion has been obtained.

The proposal sets up a "model community" plan for Garden Grove, with the business district and surrounding residential areas zoned as to type of future construction and distance buildings may be erected from streets.

The original plan, whereby a larger area would be included in the zoning area was dropped, as many residents felt expansion needs for the community would not reach as far as the original boundaries. First plans included land along Garden Grove boulevard as far west as Huntington Beach boulevard and a similar distance eastward.

Cautious Man Has Right To Study Legs of Fiancee

By HOMER MCCOY
HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—A smart and cautious man has every right to study the legs of the girl he intends to marry, Leroy Prinz, film director, declared today.

He is entitled to do it, Prinz explained, because a girl's legs reveal a lot about her character.

Prinz, in his professional work, has been compelled to make a thorough study of feminine underpinnings and he feels he is very familiar with the subject.

Long Knees Affectionate
If you are looking for a wife, he prescribed, select a girl with long knees—she will be affectionate and constant. Prinz did not bother to explain why this should be, but he continued to cover the field exhaustively.

"I can tell a girl's character, not only by her legs, but by her walk," he said. "I learn a great

JUDGE TALKS TO ORANGE LIONS

ORANGE.—Judge J. B. Tucker, Santa Ana, was speaker at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Lions club, telling his hearers how to keep out of court, and giving examples of many things thought to be true by the general public that really are false.

For instance, a father is not responsible if his son breaks a window unless the son is acting as an agent for his parent, Judge Tucker said. In ordinary circumstances, he added, a parent is not responsible for the acts of his child.

Great care should be taken by persons signing any document, he added, as fraud may be perpetrated by careless signing of papers. Deeds not recorded are worthless, he said, if the owner dies. Also uncashed checks become worthless if the maker dies before the check is cashed.

He continued that there is too much leniency shown toward perjury in conducting of trials. This costs taxpayers much cash each year, and clouds the issue of justice. Too often trials are mere contests between lawyers, he concluded, although the judge added that, on the whole, the courts are conducted in a straightforward manner. Alvin Drumm acted as program chairman.

Gordon X. Richmond announced that the Orange Lionettes, girls' softball team sponsored by the club, will play their first game Monday night at 8 o'clock.

The annual installation of officers and ladies' night will be held July 2, at 7:30 p. m., in the American Legion hall, with Stephen Long, past president of the officers' association of the Lions, as speaker.

Huston, secretary, Earl Volberding, treasurer; Heinz Kaiser, tall-twister and W. H. Foord, lion tamer.

Report of the District Lions convention at Santa Monica was given, and the wives who were attending being Morris Crawley, A. L. Pinkley, C. W. Te Winkle, W. H. Foord, Harold Grauel, Leroy Anderson and Henry Abrams.

OFFICE by Nelly Graf

PATTY LOU Palmer, old-fashioned, hard-working little stenographer in a branch office of the National Insurance Company, never has any "dates." Realizing that she is missing all the fun in life, she persuades Marcell Gray, the beautiful but hard-boiled office manager, to include her in a dinner-and-dancing party one night. She meets the wealthy Dale Northcutt, Marcell has set her cap for Dale and is furious when he shows his preference for Patty Lou. Later, when she discovers that Dale is paying serious attention to Patty Lou, she schemes to get even with her. Meanwhile, Patty Lou's grandmother, with whom she lives and who is her only relative, naively takes it for granted that Patty Lou's "first beau" intends to marry her and, having privately learned from the doctor that her own days are numbered, feels relieved that her granddaughter has found some one to look after her.

CHAPTER X
Patty Lou and her grandmother always went to church on Sunday. Granny said they wouldn't make this Sunday an exception just because Dale was coming. Probably he'd be late afternoon before he came, anyway.

But when they returned home about twelve-thirty, his big car was parked in front of the cottage. He came running to meet them.

"Thought you might invite me to lunch," he said, helping Granny up the steps, but hardly taking his eyes off Patty Lou.

They were a gay trio, getting the lunch ready. Granny chattered volubly, with Patty Lou as the main subject. After trying in vain to stop her, Patty Lou looked at Dale for understanding and found it in his amused, adoring eyes.

"Don't even try to stop her," Dale whispered.

When they had finished eating, Granny arose and stated briskly: "Now, Patty Lou, you're going to do the dishes all by yourself. I'm going to take Dale in the other room. Got something to say that's none of your business?"

"Perhaps Dale would rather not—" Patty Lou remonstrated, but Dale silenced her.

"Wrong, Patty Lou. I'd rather," He followed Granny into the living room.

AS Granny closed the door, a worried frown appeared on Patty Lou's forehead. What in the world could Granny have to say that was so secret?

She had finished the dishes, and had waited half an hour before Granny and Dale came into the kitchen. Dale's face was serious.

"Your grandmother has made you no end of trouble. If anything should happen to her," he said, "And I'm wondering if I can measure up."

"Guardian?" If anything should happen to her, Patty Lou spoke fearfully. "Granny do you mean?"

"Don't mean a thing, child. I'm spry as a yearling. But I like you beat, and I ain't aimin' to leave undone what I feel should be done."

"Am I your beau?" Dale teased. Patty Lou felt her heart hammering as she conquered a desire to answer, "Always!"

"If you ain't," said Granny, "I'll put Patty Lou in a corner and make her wear a dunce cap. Now you two go for a ride while I catch up on a bit of reading."

"Come with us, Granny," Patty Lou urged.

"Two's company, three's a crowd," snapped Granny. "Shoo along now. We'll have another bite to eat about seven."

By LARS MORRIS

HUGO GROTIUS... Reared in Leyden, Holland, Hugo Grotius set a terrific pace in his education. At 9 he was writing first class Latin verse—at 12 he entered university. Three years later he edited the encyclopedic work of Martinius Capella, then went to the court of France with a special embassy.

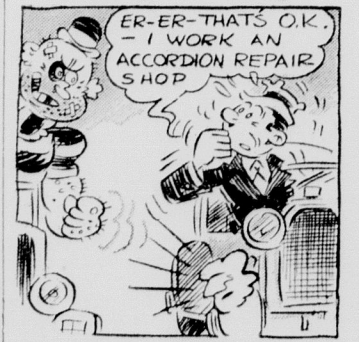

In 1599, at the age of 17, Grotius conducted his first law suit, won widespread fame for the ability he displayed in the handling of it, and was appointed States-General historiographer at 20. When 24 he was made Advocate-General.

Life stopped running smoothly for Grotius in 1615. Involved in a political battle, he was thrown into prison under a life sentence, escaped and went to France. Here he lived until 1631 when he returned to Holland. His enemies were still active, however, and Grotius was condemned to perpetual banishment. Sweden became his next place of refuge. He was gladly welcomed, was befriended by the government and won a post as Swedish ambassador to France, an office which he held for 10 years.

Today Grotius is chiefly remembered for his "De Jure Belli et Pacis," regarded as the basis of modern international law.

This newspaper stands for a reunited people, for independence in all things political, and for honest journalism in its news and editorial columns.

Relief Chiselers Get It In Neck

ABOUT the louiest, smallest trick that a man can play is to chisel on the relief funds which the people of the United States in the bigness of their hearts have set aside from the national cash box for the care and upkeep of the jobless.

There are all kinds of relief chiselers, of course—from the tinnhorn parasite who has a patronage loafing job to the big time politician who builds WPA projects on the private property of his personal friends.

This editorial refers particularly, however, to individuals who draw relief funds from Uncle Sam and at the same time earn an outside private salary from other sources.

Such a case has been reported in Costa Mesa by agents of the state comptroller, and more accusations in this area are being investigated.

So far, we understand, more than 4,000 of this species of relief termite have been uncovered in Southern California.

There is only so much money allotted for relief. When it is grabbed by those petty crooks who don't need it, some innocent unfortunate family suffers correspondingly.

General attitude of the public toward the A. F. of L. and C. I. O. troubles: "Let's you and him fight."

Frozen Fruit Is Bad Business

NOTHING disgusts the Orange county housewife more than to bring home a dozen oranges from the market and find out that several of them are frozen and practically as dry inside as a mouthful of crackers.

Thinks like that simply shouldn't happen in Orange county, the heart of the citrus belt.

It is just as annoying, too, to the eastern homemaker to lug home a load of pulpy frost-bitten citrus.

The eastern woman can do something concrete about it, however, to register dissatisfaction. She can say "No more California oranges for me. I'll stick to Florida fruit."

And home industry loses another customer. That is one reason why we are glad to be assured that the state in current cases is doing its best to maintain a uniform enforcement of the standardization laws throughout California.

Good fruit makes satisfied customers and they come back for more. Bad fruit sends them over to the Florida brands.

So far the La Follette committee has failed to turn up any union spies sitting on the boards of big corporations.

How About A County Civic Center?

FOR the liveliest section of Southern California, we recommend Orange county's thriving coastline. And this time the salute goes to the Laguna Beach chamber of commerce for its enthusiastic work on behalf of a new civic center for that fast growing and popular community.

The Lagunans are working on their city fathers toward the purchase of land for a civic center—which is something that no live town should be without.

Which reminds us that not long ago we suggested that Orange county promote a civic center.

There are ways it could be done. The county has enough property now—with its court square, old hotel, jail building and whatnots scattered around.

These old fire and quake traps should be wrecked and the way cleared for a modern, up-to-date, roomy county building—something that no live county should be without.

Those Russians left at the North Pole may not be so unlucky. Perhaps they will get out of the next war.

Shows Good Manners With Red Flag

THE red flag of Russia is flying high in San Francisco these days, we hear, whether the city officials like it or not.

In fact, the authorities themselves hoisted the Bolshevik emblem when those three Soviet polar flyers came to town, thereby showing good manners and true California hospitality.

We imagine that there were those, however, who protested against the display of the sickle and hammer, but they probably were in the small minority.

The average American is a pretty good cuss, and as much as he hates Stalin and the tribe that is running Russia, he recognizes true achievement when he sees it, and he is willing to raise the red flag, or any other, if it is the right thing to do under the circumstances.

Not to have honored the three Arctic flyers by the hoisting of their national banner would have been a needless and boorish insult.

What ever became of that plan to put parking meters here?

Two Parks Is A Good Way To Start

THERE'LL be a lot of cheering in the south end of town over Councilman Ernest Layton's plan to place two small parks in that much neglected section of the city.

Residents who dwell south of First street have thought for a long time that the municipal government should steer some civic improvements in their direction.

Not that they object to Jack Fisher and Santiago parks for the north siders, but simply that they want to see a substantial return on the tax money in their neighborhoods, too.

For the south section not only is devoid of public recreation facilities but is so inadequately equipped with storm drains that almost every sizable rain forces the inhabitants to get out their hip boots and bailing buckets.

It's time for the city to do something for the south side. Councilman Layton's park plan is a good way to begin.

McINTYRE

Of all picturesque shoe string producers Broadway has nurtured none who has enlivened the Rialto lore with so many rollicking tales as Will Morrissey. He has literally started a Broadway production and held it together with nothing but a $10 bill.

An actor himself, indeed a versatile comedian, he likes nothing better than to collect a group of hungry actors and grub-stake them. Most of his quixotic efforts, it is true, have been flops but not all. He bank-rolled "The Gorilla" which rolled up profits of $100,000.

He has whipped a show into shape in five feverish days and started out gloriously optimistic on a barn storming trip that would often wind up on some dreary depot platform with the village sheriff in command of the trunks, scenery and any other negotiable assets.

But he comes back to Broadway, smiling and chuck-a-luck with a fresh crop of ideas. And with all his vicissitudes he manages to appear snappily dressed. Recently he became general manager for Billy Rose but the Rialto expects him back. He's a trouper to the core.

Young Jack Whitney is considered at the moment the most generous theatrical angel. Although he has become something of a burnt-child-afraid-of-the-fire, he can still take a socking and go on his merry way because of enormous wealth. But his efforts have not all been losses and he has had his fun along with the headaches. His biggest loss was in a Peter Arno show opening and closing in one night. During his active years the late Otto Kahn was the most accessible of angels. He was unusual in that he never expected anything but a loss—and that was mostly what he got.

News comes back to Broadway of Wilda Bennett, once one of the alluring musical comedy stars and a toast of the Rialto. Today she has swapped the fashionable tops that distinguished her for the homely-looking ginghams and is living with her husband, a cost engineer, in the heart of the Kettleman Hills in California. Her home is a frame cottage on the single street of a topsy-turvy oil field town. She does her own cooking, washes the community gatherings, watches the sunset on the porch in the evening—and writes friends she was never so happy.

The most aristocratic of the washroom boys is Bill at The Colony. He has been there 13 years. His job includes checking hats and he never gives out a check. Bill knows everybody of social importance not only in New York but in such surrounding cities as Boston, Philadelphia and Washington. Many a well-dressed patron has stopped in to see Bill on the way to the theater, received his magic formula he mixes so quickly and has thus been able at times to know what is going on in the stage before the close of the second act. Because those he serves are largely among the wealthy, he has been on the receiving end of many extravagant tips. The top being a $100 bill for taking care of a straw hat during the luncheon hour. That was, of course, before what Mike Hogg calls the "un-booming."

A New York chemist recently introduced to the dieting public a butterless butter—a fatless substance that looked and tasted like the real thing but was devoid of calorie values. The chemist now announces a starchless flour self rising and designed for those who crave bread but fear the starch in it. The world will now await breathlessly a spinachless spinach.

New York's immensity is sometimes illustrated by its amazing difference. The other day, for instance, I passed the block in East 50th street where the model, Veronica Gideon, her mother and boarder were victim in a triple murder. I thought of looking at the apartment building where the tragedy took place but wasn't certain of the number. So I asked a man on a nearby stoop. He thought it was 316 but was not sure. "It happened two months ago," he said.

Thingumbobs: Julius Whitmark, music publisher, was once a boy tenor with Primrose and West's minstrels. Rex Cole has three personal chauffeurs. Variety places Major Bowes' income as an entertainer at $1,500,000 a year, the all time record. Manuel Quezon, of the Philippines, bought $5000 worth of haberdashery at a crack on a recent New York visit. Paul Whitman is building a home near Amon G. Carter's in Fort Worth, Tex.

Whenever I feel a slight urge to stir my lazy bones, swing about the golf course, visit a bowling alley or such I am always comforted by my hesitancy by the philosophy of William Allen White. He once told a friend he took all his exercise being pall bearer to his friends who were physical culture addicts.

CHICAGO.—A Roosevelt mass meeting has been called for tonight to organize a new party. All delegates are invited. The "Progressive" party is the name which has been chosen. It is the announced purpose of the leaders to take over the machinery of the republican party in states where the organization is in the control of the Roosevelt men.

Joseph H. Dierksen, charged with check kiting on a wholesale scale, the same man who buncoed County Auditor Cal D. Lester out of $50 by giving him a worthless check and getting the cold cash for it, was arrested yesterday at Bisbee, Ariz., on instructions telegraphed from Los Angeles by Sheriff Hammell, and will be brought back to answer to several charges of felony.

Dr. and Mrs. John L. Dryer and Miss Alexander went to Los Angeles yesterday to bid adieu to Miss Catherine Dryer and Miss Edna Ames, who left for New York last evening. They will sail the twenty-ninth and after a time spent in sight-seeing they will go to Barburg for the summer school session and will go to Berlin for university studies.

It cost the county just $476.70 to get a jury to try the case of Rosario Sainz, who day before yesterday was convicted of murder in the first degree.

Excuse it, please.

"Pretty swell joint, isn't it?" "Yeh! It's raided about twice a week."

Another advantage of living in an auto-trailer is that you always have a place to throw your discarded safety-razor blades.

Gone to lunch. Back in 15 minutes.

One Man's Opinion

REVIEWING THE OX

Come take a little ride with me in an automobile and I'll show you the inside workings of the selfish human ego. Please bear in mind that this is a personally conducted tour.

We start out in mid-afternoon of a soft summer day and choose, as everyone does who can, a road that winds around the shore of a beautiful fresh water lake.

The feathery green hand of spring is still abroad in the land, and her fairy touch is still in full evidence in the lacy foliage that lines our course.

We travel slowly, for we have had a late luncheon—and what a day for viewing the scenery. The over-abundance of beauty dulls the ordinary senses, and before long we have sloughed entirely the eager, competitive spirit of the ordinary workaday world, and have become more consciously happy entities seemingly swimming along in a sea of beautiful sights and sounds.

The road is a narrow one, just wide enough for two cars, and it winds and winds along the lake-shore, climbing an occasional hill and gliding down again into a leafy vale. Utterly delightful!

And then—blare! blare! blare! A scurrying car skyrockets past us. Then another. And another.

We think dire thoughts about mortals so blind to beauty that they can hurry down such a road. Let them hurry on the major highways, four abreast, if they like, but why not leave the beauty roads to us who take the time to enjoy them?

Another afternoon. The next afternoon, if you like, we are leaving our office late and hurrying home to dinner.

Imagine that we've moved overnight, and that we will live for the summer on the lakeshore some miles from our office.

We're hardly out of town before the aforementioned narrow road is blocked with sightseers who dawdle along at 20 to 30 miles an hour. We're in a hurry and want to do 50—anyhow 45. Golly, what loafers!

But the road is beautiful, as I said before. The tawdriers dawdle, and you and I are late to dinner.

Our forefathers of the horse and buggy era used to say "It makes a difference whose ox is yoked." The 1937 automobile version of this saying, relating to beautiful but narrow roads, is still to be written.

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have a voice and contribute to the formation of public opinion, The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag.

"IT'S VERY FUNNY"

To the Editor: It seems very funny that every time a man resigns or is discharged from the Townsend organization he immediately tries to start some sort of a pension movement usually based upon a two per cent transaction tax.

It seems funny that the Hon. John S. McGroarty will say that the Townsend movement has been up and ever since Mr. Clements left it.

It seems very funny that the Hon. John S. McGroarty has a pension plan he is trying to put over, so very much similar to the Townsend plan.

It seems very funny to me when I read in all the papers the other day, that Mr. Clements is launching a pension plan based on a two per cent transaction tax that pays to all over 60 years of age, $100 per month.

It is indeed funny that Mr. Clements' plan and the Hon. John S. McGroarty's plan are so very much alike.

It is quite laughable to think that all the pension-minded sponsors of different pension ideas do not know the meaning of the word "operation." If they would put all their eggs in one basket such as Dr. Townsend tells all his constituents to do they might get somewhere.

Does it not seem funny to you that wherever Dr. Townsend goes he will draw a larger audience than any other man in the oratorical field today? What a laugh we Townsendites are getting out of all this free publicity.

To laugh is to be healthy, so join a Townsend club and enjoy a good laugh with us. C. E. M.

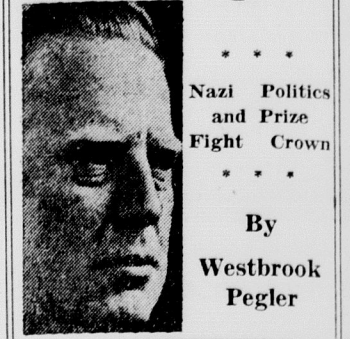

Remarkable Remarks

She's a little young, but I think we'll get along pretty well.—W. H. Groshong, 55, of Lawson, Mo., who married a girl 15.

I hope and believe we convinced the United States of the sincerity of our belief that no contribution to world trade could be greater than a trade pact between this country and the United States.—Walter Runciman, in the English cabinet.

If you athletically-minded girls would limit your activities to swimming and to golf and tennis, where success depends on coordination rather than brawn, your chances of acquiring husbands and families of healthy children would be enhanced.—Sprinter Frank Wykoff.

FAIR Enough

By Westbrook Pegler

CHICAGO.—With a soggy right smash to the chin, Joe Louis, the sulphur-colored negro boy from Detroit knocked out Jimmy Braddock in the eighth round of their fight at Comiskey's ball-yard on the south side of Chicago. This made Louis heavyweight champion of the world with the small but very confusing exception of Max Schmeling, the official state gladiator of "Nazi" Germany. Mr. Schmeling knocked out Louis in 12 rounds a year ago and public opinion may either regard him as champion or create for him some special title to acknowledge his superior rank.

The situation is not exactly new in the prize fight business as there have been many champions in various classes who had previously been beaten by other fighters whom they preferred to ignore after winning their titles. The difference in the present case is that Schmeling has been taken up officially by Adolf Hitler and little Joe Goebbels, the state minister of propaganda who suddenly appreciated his character only after he had beaten Louis in New York. Up to that time they had ignored him and, so far as official recognition was concerned, had distinctly disowned him for he had previously been knocked out by Max Baer.

COULDN'T STAND BAER

The defeat was bad enough for a patriot aspiring to wear the insignia of the spinning pinwheel on his bathrobe and to dunk pretzels with Herr Hitler at official beer nights in Berlin but the Jewishness of Mr. Baer was a tremendous humiliation to the Reich. Then, too, when Schmeling came over to fight Louis the American sport journalists and Herr Hitler, himself, thought he would be soundly beaten for he had shown nothing to indicate otherwise. Herr Hitler and little Joe Goebbels wanted no part of a man who had been knocked out by a Jewish person and who seemed pretty sure to be flattened by a colored party so they withheld recognition of Schmeling until the returns were in. Promptly thereafter they discovered that he was a pure Aryen although Herr Schmeling, pointing to his high cheek bones, narrow eyes and coarse dark hair, once told your correspondent that he thought he might have an ancient mongol strain in his make-up.

NAZIS MAY PROTEST

Now the Nazi government may even resort to diplomatic usage to compel the American public and press to acknowledge Schmeling as champion, for the reich is the first state in the world so hard put for honors as to regard the title as a vulgar national asset. Though the championship has been almost monopolized by American prizefighters from the time of the first recognized champion, John L. Sullivan, Washington always has regarded the champions as private operators and the title itself as a private and not too distinguished honor.

However, if Schmeling's victory over Louis is to be insisted upon, a similar though somewhat less pressing argument could be made against his claim on the ground that he never did revoke the knockout he suffered at the hands of Mr. Baer. It goes into involvements, and deep thought and calm counsel will be required to avert international complications. Unfortunately the state department has no acknowledged experts on the matter of prizefight successions, tradition and law but no doubt many well informed authorities can be recruited from Cauliflower alley who would be glad to serve for the stipend of an under-secretary plus the regulation equipment of striped pants and sugarscoop coat.

A PLEASANT BOIT

The fight was a pleasant little blood-letting, discourse in a baseball plant set amid one of the most abominable slums in the United States in a neighborhood predominantly negro. Braddock put Louis down for an instant in the first round with a right to the chin and won the first two rounds while his strength was up. He lost every round thereafter however and was badly shaken several times by Louis' right hand shots at the face before the final one dropped him unconscious. He was so badly stunned that he couldn't even struggle to get his legs under him and was led from the ring with unsightly wounds about the eyes and a dreadful gash on his left cheek which probably will require stitching and leave a scar. It has been estimated that after he has paid off his managers, handlers and won a tremendous amount of help and showered down his income taxes calculated in high brackets on one large fiscal year he will have only $66,000. However, a little over two years ago he was earning only a few dollars a day on public relief work to support his wife and children.
